Lansing Recess Dispute To Be Aired Tonight

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, today denied speculation that the House wants to lengthen the legislative session so it can slash Gov. George W. Romney's budget.

"I expect the committees will make some adjustment in the governor's budget, but I'm sure the Republican caucus in the House will not approve any cut of a substantial nature," he said.

He will head the five representatives who will meet with Senate Majority Leader Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, and four other senators tonight in an all-Republican session over the House-Senate dispute.

Stalling Condemned
The meeting is scheduled for an hour before the legislative week begins.

"Additional time is needed for orderly legislative process," Green said. "I am not and will not be a party to any stalling tactics for the purpose of slashing the governor's budget."

Green first voiced the recess idea, asking a two-week break to allow the House Ways and Means Committee extra time to work on Gov. George W. Romney's general fund budget. Such a recess would also push back adjournment, extending the session.

Thayer said there is no sentiment among the Senate's Republicans to extend the session or authorize a recess. Senate Democrats also oppose these.

Thayer has raised the possibility of a special summer session to dispose of work for which Green has asked the extra time, but Green branded this suggestion "silly."

A possible compromise mentioned by both Thayer and Green would keep the present adjournment schedule but extend the deadline for committee action on bills.

Until this disagreement boiled up, the legislature had been at its most productive pace of the session, passing both the mandatory tenure law and the state enabling aid to dependent children of the unemployed within the week.

Another key item—Romney's committee-approved $1 hourly minimum wage bill—is on the House calendar.

The Senate faces an agenda of possible final action on 19 measures, all moved up into voting position Friday.

Skandia Motorist Killed By Fumes

SKANDIA (AP) — Floyd Haglund, 22, of Skandia, was killed by carbon monoxide after his car went off the road and plowed into a snowbank today.

The accident near this Marquette County town bent the exhaust pipe in such a way that the fumes were released beneath the floorboard, which had holes in it.

Two of Haglund's brothers found him dead in the front seat, police said.

Ruby's Lawyer Asks For Extra Jail Security

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Ruby remained alone in a jail cell today while his attorneys prepared to appeal the verdict of a Dallas jury which sentenced him to death for murder.

"Maximum security" surrounds Ruby, Sheriff Bill Decker said.

But Ruby's attorney, Melvin Belli, said he is worried about a possible attempt on Ruby's life and has asked for extra protection for him.

"Later on," Decker said, "when he has adjusted to the jolt of the verdict, he probably will be put in a large cell with other prisoners. He's had maximum security from the beginning and he will continue to have it in jail."

Prisoner "Worried"

Dallas authorities refused to "dignify by comment" a statement Belli has made several times since Ruby was convicted Saturday morning of killing Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy. The attorney said:

"Ruby is worried, and so am I, that they may slip someone into his cell—another prisoner—with a shiv (knife) in order to prevent our appeal. Then they would make it appear as a suicide and this vicious city would have him off their hands."

Throughout the 23-day trial, three guards sat near Ruby in court—so near, in fact, that Belli once protested they were listening to his conversations with Ruby. They were seated in such a way as to be able to watch the spectators.

Saturday, before the verdict was handed down, Decker put three more in the front row of seats.

New Trial Unlikely

In Texas, the jury fixes the penalty. For murder, punishment ranges from two years imprisonment, suspended, to death in the electric chair.

Ruby's lawyers can take the first step toward an appeal by asking Judge Joe B. Brown for a new trial. They have 10 days to file.

Since a trial judge seldom reverses himself, the next step would be the Texas Criminal Court of Appeals within 90 days.

A "full bill of exceptions" to Brown's rulings during the trial is being prepared, Belli said. The defense filed 139 exceptions to the language in Brown's charge to the jury.

Oswald was shot to death Nov. 24 as he was being transferred from one jail to another.

Cost Of New Agency Will Be Nearly Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave Congress marching orders today for the war on poverty, concentrating his $962.5-million attack on helping needy young Americans.

The program to help youngsters in the 16 to 21 age bracket centers on a job corps reminiscent of the Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s.

"The years of high school and college age are the most critical stage of a young person's life," Johnson said, in a special message on poverty. "If they are not helped then, many will be condemned to a life of poverty which they, in turn, will pass on to their children."

Work For Dropouts

The job corps would enlist up to 100,000 young men, draft rejects and school dropouts, from "those whose background, health and education makes them least fit for useful work."

These young men would be removed from their slum backgrounds and placed in camps to work on conservation projects and in special job training centers for a blend of training, basic education and work experience.

Other phases of the youth program are work-training and work-study projects, federal grants to provide full or part time jobs to help youngsters stay in high school, take vocational training or work their way through college.

More For Shriver

Coordinating the war on poverty will be a new executive agency, the Office of Economic Opportunities, which Johnson said would be headed by Arthur Shriver, "my personal chief of staff for the war against poverty."

In addition to the Job Corps, Shriver also will supervise creation of another new group, the Volunteers for America, a Peace Corps-styled body of 3,000 to 5,000 volunteers who will work in various phases of the war on poverty.

Both the Job Corps and the Volunteers for America are taken from legislation now pending in Congress — the Youth Conservation Corps and the National Service Corps respectively.

Loans Provided

Other phases of the war on poverty asked by Johnson included:

—A program of grants of up to 90 per cent for urban and rural community action programs, where local plans were drafted to utilize available community resources, public and private, to wipe out pockets of poverty.

—Special grants and loans to help boost the incomes of subsistence farmers.

—Special low interest loans for investments that will provide jobs for low-income families or persons who have been out of jobs for many months, and also to small business not eligible for regular loans from the small business administration.

—Expansion of a Welfare Department program to help train

Cleanup Begins In Five States After Big Flood

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — After a week-long battle against the bloated Ohio River, residents of five states worked today to clean up a flood that has caused an estimated $100 million damage and has claimed a dozen lives.

Federal planners joined with governments of Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania to help the estimated 110,000 persons affected by the worst Ohio River valley flood in 19 years.

The crest on the Ohio surged downriver and passed Owensboro where some residents have returned home. Others must wait for the flood to dip further before they can return to mud-coated property which they fled last week. The U.S. Weather Bureau says it will be a week before the river drops to flood stage at most points between Louisville and Cairo, Ill.

The Ohio leaked under a floodwall in Camellon Ind. Sunday, but officials said there appeared no danger to waterfront residents. Sandbags blocked the water's path and civil defense workers were standing by in case evacuation was needed.

The river crested 8.5 feet above flood stage at Owensboro. No significant new flooding was reported.

President Johnson who made an aerial tour of the flood area Friday with the governors of five states, has assured the states aid would be forthcoming.

The Red Cross has established rehabilitation centers and urged residents apply for long-term aid. Some shelters were being closed as many refugees returned to their homes.

The Salvation Army, Red Cross and other agencies started distributing clean-up and comfort kits and civil groups began handing out clothes to the flood victims.

President Johnson has been asked to declare 47 counties in Kentucky and 12 in West Virginia as disaster areas.

Backing Goes To Goldwater

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater carried the strident endorsement of the 14,000-member California Republican Assembly into the state's primary campaign today.

Conservatives topped off their Goldwater victory by capturing control of the volunteer party organization in a free swinging contest with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's forces.

Conservatives topped off their Sunday session, the outnumbered Rockefeller delegates staged a walkout before the vote committing the CRA to support the Arizona senator in his California race against the New York governor.

The Rockefeller faction battled to prevent any endorsement but there was never any doubt about the outcome. All the Rockefeller backers could do was fight a long delaying action that turned the convention into a parliamentary nightmare.

Goldwater swept the endorsement by a lopsided margin on a standing vote with only two dozen or so Rockefeller members are still around to register a protest.

United Attack Asked On Ills Of Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson tries to breathe new life into the Alliance for Progress today with an appeal for a united attack on the economic and social ills that bedevil Latin America.

In what has been heralded as a major policy address to the Organization of American States, the President was expected to assure the Latin-American nations that he is firmly committed to the $20-billion 10-year hemispheric reform program charted three years ago by his predecessor.

President John F. Kennedy first set forth his proposals for the alliance on March 13, 1961. Johnson timed his pledge of support on the alliance's third anniversary to coincide with the installation of Colombia's Carlos Sanz de Santamaria as first chairman of the newly formed Inter-American Committee.

The committee is to share with the United States the responsibility for operating the alliance. Johnson's address at a special OAS session is designed to give the committee an enthusiastic takeoff.

All U.S. ambassadors and foreign aid mission chiefs based in Latin America have been summoned to Washington by the President to attend the session. They are also to participate in a full-scale review of U.S. diplomatic, military and economic relations with Latin America and a discussion of all aspects of hemisphere affairs.

Tonight the President will bring the U.S. ambassadors and aid officials together with Latin-American ambassadors at a White House reception.

In an interview broadcast Sunday by three radio and television networks Johnson conceded that the alliance has been making slow progress.

Lodge Staying At His Post, President Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he has no indication that Henry Cabot Lodge plans to leave his post as ambassador to South Viet Nam. "If he did I am sure he would let me know," Johnson told a nationwide radio and television audience Sunday night. He added that the ambassador, whose political stock boomed with victory in New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary, has tended to business and behaved properly.

On his own side of the political fence, Johnson dismissed as "newspaper talk" reports of a rift with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and said he has taken Kennedy's word that he has done nothing to encourage efforts to boom the attorney general for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Dinners Planned

Johnson said he hopes the Democrats will not campaign actively until after this summer's convention although he said he intends to "carry out some commitments that President Kennedy made for fundraising dinners from time to time."

Politics and foreign policy dominated the hour-long "Conversation with the President" broadcast by the ABC, CBS and NBC radio and television networks. These were among the chief executive's other major pronouncements:

—He has had no contact with his old friend, Bobby Baker, since Baker resigned in October as secretary to the Senate Democrats. The President said Baker could not properly be called his protegee because "he was there before I came to the Senate for 10 years."

—He intends to be "a people's president." And he will continue to mix with crowds even though his bodyguards "would feel better if the president kept 100 yards distance from every human being."

Enjoys His Job

—Congress should make certain the nation always has a vice president, but he doesn't have any "deep-set views on just how that should be done."

—His most vivid memory of the days following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy is of Mrs. Kennedy. "I saw her greatness, her gallantry, her graciousness, her courage and it will always be a vivid memory."

Liz Taylor And Burton Wedded

MONTREAL (AP) — "Elizabeth and I are very happy," said Richard Burton after he and Elizabeth Taylor were married Sunday in a quiet ceremony that contrasted sharply with their widely publicized romance.

The simple, single-ring ceremony was performed in the royal suite of Montreal's Ritz-Carlton Hotel by the Rev. Leonard Mason, pastor of the Unitarian Church of the Messiah. Eleven guests attended.

It was the fifth marriage for Miss Taylor, 32, one of the film world's highest paid and most beautiful stars. Burton, 38, son of a Welsh miner, had been married once.

The couple was to return today to Toronto where Burton is playing the lead in a production of "Hamlet" due in New York next month.

The bride wore a yellow chiffon gown designed by Hollywood's Irene Sharaff. She carried a bouquet of yellow freesia. Burton wore a sprig of it in his lapel.

Robert Wilson, a friend of Burton from New York City, was best man. There was no announcement of who attended Miss Taylor. A champagne party followed the ceremony.

Lake Ice Breaks; Boy, 12, Drowned

FENTON (AP) — Stephen McClendon, 12, of Flint, drowned Sunday in Lake Copneconic and an 8-year-old companion, Michael Sorrell, had a narrow escape when ice gave way beneath them.

The two boys ventured on the lake two miles north of Fenton and went down some 50 feet off shore, near an inlet.

H.R. Hatt who was working in his yard nearby and looked up and saw the boys in the water, managed to push a pole to young Sorrell, but couldn't reach the McClendon boy.

Panama And U.S. Hope To Revive Talks On Canal

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S. spokesman has squelched optimism arising from an Organization of American States announcement that the United States and Panama had agreed to resume diplomatic relations.

The situation was further confused when an aide to Panama's President Roberto Chiari confirmed in Panama City the agreement announced by the OAS.

Panama broke diplomatic relations with the United States Jan. 10 after rioting in the Panama Canal Zone left 21 persons dead and some 200 wounded. It said it would not resume relations until the United States agreed to renegotiate the 1903 treaty under which it has perpetual rights to operate the canal.

For its part, the United States said resumption of diplomatic relations must precede any talks about the canal's future.

Sunday night's announcement by Ambassador Juan Plate of Paraguay, chairman of the special OAS committee investigating the crisis and seeking a reconciliation, said:

"The governments of the Republic of Panama and of the United States of America have agreed to re-establish diplomatic relations as soon as possible to seek the prompt elimination of the causes of conflict relative to the Panama Canal."

The agreement calls for both countries to "designate special ambassadors with sufficient powers to carry out discussions and negotiations with the objective of reaching a fair and just agreement."

It added that diplomatic relations will be resumed "as soon as possible."

A statement from the U.S. source said:

"The United States Government, and the Government of Panama, as of 11 p.m. Sunday, have had no meeting of the minds on either the resumption of relations or the procedures to be followed in an attempt to solve the problems surrounding the Panama disturbances."

"The United States Government will welcome a resumption of diplomatic relations with Panama. The United States appreciates the contribution of the OAS delegation and hopes that successful conversations will result from its endeavors."

Collision Fatal To Family Of 5

DEARBORN (AP)—A young couple and their three children were killed Saturday night in a fiery collision between their station wagon and another car. Two persons were injured.

The family of five was on the way home to nearby Dearborn Heights from a visit to the children's grandparents when another driver speeding from the scene of a minor smashup hit the rear of the station wagon at an intersection, police said.

The station wagon, which police said had stopped for the red intersection light, burst into flames at the impact. It was forced across the road and into the path of another car.

Killed were David Olson, 26, an insurance salesman; his wife, Geraldine, 25, and their children—Dawn, 7; Beth, 6, and Todd, 3.

The parents and Dawn were flung to the pavement. Beth and Todd were trapped in the burning car. All were dead when police arrived.

John R. Gearhart Jr., 32, of Madison Heights, identified as the driver of the car that hit the station wagon, was taken to Wayne County General Hospital in serious condition from injuries.

Police quoted witnesses as saying Gearhart was driving from 80 to 90 mph. He had side-swiped another car earlier about a mile away, police said.

Air Hero Says U.S. Must Plan To Invade Cuba

DETROIT (AP)—The United States must invade Cuba "sooner or later" to protect itself against the spread of Communism, Capt. Edward V. (Eddie) Rickenbacker said today.

Rickenbacker, hero of two world wars, said in a prepared speech to the Economic Club of Detroit the menace of Communism requires an invasion "supported by all countries in the Western Hemisphere."

"Sooner or later, we must invade and clean out all subversive elements and war materials," he said.

Rickenbacker, who has been making public appeals for what he calls a return to conservatism in America, also proposed the United States sever diplomatic relations with Russia and Iron Curtain countries.

"We have everything to gain and nothing to lose except the diplomatic and cultural spies sent over here by the hundreds at our expense," he said.

Sportsmen Urge Caution In Gun Sale Controls

Region 1 (Upper Peninsula) of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs in annual pre-convention conference at the House of Ludington on Sunday endorsed the original Dodd Bill and opposed any and all amendments restricting the sale of firearms.

The Dodd Bill had been introduced in Congress with National Rifle Association backing when the assassination of President Kennedy brought many amendments to tighten up sale of guns drastically. Sportsmen fear that such legislation may affect acquisition of guns for legitimate hunting and target purposes without being an effective control on underworld guns.

There were 36 representatives of 5 MUCC clubs in the Upper Peninsula at the conference, which was addressed by MUCC President O. Stewart Meyers of Grand Rapids and James Rouman of Lansing, executive director of the MUCC, and Vice Presidents Lester Newbold of Harrison and Hans Grether of Roscommon.

Meyers urged conservation of natural and mental resources in an inspirational talk urging that fathers pass on our heritage of the out-of-doors to their sons.

Rouman explained the legislative process on conservation control and the importance of keeping an eye on lawmakers. He said it was all right for sportsmen to fight over details of control, but that they should unite in agreement on basic control of pure waters wildlife habitat and other issues.

Rev. Karl J. Hammar, veteran conservationist of Escanaba, gave the invocation.

MUCC District Field Representative Victor Powers of Escanaba presided at the session, which adopted resolutions for presentation to the Kalamazoo convention in June calling for:

1. More severe penalties on game law violators.
2. Legislation to lighten the liability of landowners on recreational land users.
3. Continue the present bounty system.
4. Mandatory deer check.
5. Expanded and intensified fisheries management efforts in the field (The sportsmen want more fall planting of trout or an explanation of why it's not desirable.)
6. Stream improvement program enlargement.
7. Property owner's name on any sign denying the public access to his property.
8. Permission for bow hunters to transport a strung bow in a case in the archery deer hunting season.
9. Opposition to change in fishing license fees.
10. Opening of the deer season on the Saturday nearest Nov. 15.
11. Lowering of camp deer license fee from $10 to $5.
12. Lowering of the beaver pelt sealing fee from $1 to 25c.
13. Opposition to any commercial lake trout fishing in the Great Lakes for another year.
14. Shortening of the ruffed grouse season to 30 days.

Officers of Negaunee Sportsmen Club, not affiliated with MUCC, were guests.

THE UPPER MICHIGAN Tourist Association is promoted by this exhibit at the Milwaukee Sentinel Sports-Boat-Vacation Show, which opened last Saturday in Milwaukee. The show attracted an opening weekend crowd of more than 45,000, according to Charles D. Collins, director, who estimates that more than 150,000 persons will attend by the time the show closes next Sunday evening. The vacation, travel, and resort section of the Sentinel show is the largest display of domestic and foreign travel exhibits ever to be seen in Milwaukee. The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce is distributing Bay de Noc area tourism literature at the show.

Delta Mineral Value Declines

The production and value of mineral products and minerals in Delta County declined in 1962 from the previous two years, according to statistics from the geological survey division of the Department of Conservation.

All of Michigan's 83 counties reported mineral production in 1962 and Delta County ranked 61 among the counties in the value of its production. Previously (1960 and 1961) Delta had ranked 57th.

Delta's production is in sand and gravel, and stone. The reported producers in 1962 were Bichler Brothers, Cloverland Milling & Supply Co., the Delta County Road Commission, Gunnar F. Holmberg and the Michigan State Highway Department.

All were listed as producers of sand and gravel, with Bichler Brothers also producing crushed limestone.

The value of the products totaled $287,604 in 1962, $472,362 in 1961, and $418,482 in 1960 for Delta County.

Six counties produced 47 per cent of the value of Michigan minerals in 1962: Wayne, Marquette, Midland, Ontonagon, Alpena and Iron.

Wayne County was first in minerals production, in excess of $42 million; Marquette was close second with $42,385,964 and Midland was third and Ontonagon fourth.

UPCAP Names First Director At Friday Meet

The Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems will enter a major new phase of its program at a meeting in the Northland Hotel, Marquette at 10 a. m. Friday when it announces and introduces a new executive director of UPCAP.

All the 14 Upper Peninsula counties whose boards of supervisors support UPCAP have been asked to send their representatives to the meeting, which will review major UPCAP projects.

The Tourism and Recreation Development Project recently approved by the Area Redevelopment Administration and to be initiated by it, UPCAP and Michigan State University, will have its work program and schedule presented by Uel Blank, Clare Gunn and Leo Twardzik of MSU and others.

The UPCAP staffing program in July, 1965 will be presented by the UPCAP executive committee and Robert R. Nathan Associates representatives. Nathan Associates are in the second phase of a technical assistance project financed by ARA for UPCAP. The second phase will terminate Nathan's services to UPCAP and train a staff to continue its work while doing it.

The 1965 UPCAP budget proposal will be made. The U. P. county boards are now financing UPCAP to the total of $3,000 a year and its needs will be much greater at the expiration of the ARA aid period if it is to continue its present services to Upper Peninsula economic development.

Michigan's program for economic expansion will be presented.

U.P. Labor To Confer At NMU On Leadership

Upper Peninsula labor organizations will participate in a spring leadership conference in Marquette April 18-19.

Elwood E. Hella, education chairman for the Marquette County Labor Council AFL-CIO, sponsor of the event, says the Labor Program Service of Michigan State University is arranging for discussion leaders and speakers. The conference will be held at Northern Michigan University.

Featured will be discussions on financing public education and vocational education. Specific speakers and additional program details will be announced at a later date, Hella says.

Fred K. Hoehler, associate director of Labor and Industrial Relations for MSU was in Marquette recently to make conference arrangements with Hella and Jack Meyers of NMU's Public Services Division.

Hella says members of all labor groups in the Upper Peninsula will be invited to the conference.

Dagenais Seeks Seat On Council

One of Escanaba's youngest businessmen and probably the youngest man ever to become a City Council candidate today filed nominating petitions with City Clerk Don Guindon for a place on the April 6 election ballot.

He is Robert Dagenais, 23 years old and the owner and manager of the Piggy-Wiggly Super Market at 1505 Washington Ave.

He is one of several who have filed as a candidate in the election at which three councilmen will be elected for terms of four years. The deadline for council candidates to file nominating petitions is 5 p.m. Tuesday, March 17, in the office of the city clerk.

Dagenais was born in Escanaba on Oct. 24, 1940, and graduated from Escanaba High School in 1959.

He was already engaged in business before he was out of high school, however, for at the age of 16 he was operating the Highway Grocery, an enterprise he continued to run until he was 19 years old.

Construction of the Piggy-Wiggly building was followed by its opening with Bob Dagenais owner and manager, a responsibility he has held for nearly four years.

Dagenais is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Dagenais, of 1410 N. 20th St., and notes that he is the "only Council candidate whose residence is on the North Side." He is unmarried, lives with his parents, and is a member of the St. Thomas Parish.

There are three councilmen whose terms expire in this spring: Wesley Hansen, Jacob Bink and George Rusch. Hansen is retiring from the Council and will not be a candidate, but Councilman Bink seeks a fourth term and Councilman Rusch a second term.

Does BLADDER IRRITATION MAKE YOU NERVOUS?

After 21, common kidney or bladder irritations affect twice as many women as men and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. MEN PAST 40

Troubled with GETTING UP NIGHTS
Pains in BACK, HIPS, LEGS
Tiredness, LOSS OF VIGOR

If you are a victim of these symptoms then your troubles may be traced to Glandular Inflammation. Glandular Inflammation is a constitutional disease and medicines that give temporary relief will not remove the causes of your troubles.

Neglect of Glandular Inflammation often leads to premature senility, and incurable conditions.

The past year men from 1,000 communities have been successfully treated. They have found soothing relief and improved health.

RECTAL-COLON
Are often associated with Glandular Inflammation. Reducible Hemorrhoids are amenable to a mild Non-Surgical treatment.

Any of these disorders may be treated at the same time you are receiving Glandular Inflammation treatments.

James Chapekis Files For Council

Seeking public office for the first time, James P. Chapekis, Escanaba attorney, today filed nominating petitions as a candidate for the City Council in the election to be held April 7.

Born in Escanaba on March 12, 1932, he is the youngest of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Chapekis, and is a 1950 graduate of the Escanaba High School.

He then entered the University of Michigan and in 1958 graduated with Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Laws degrees.

Admitted to the Michigan Bar in January, 1959, he returned to Escanaba and has been engaged in the practice of law here since that time, with offices at 808 Ludington St.

Atty. Chapekis recently resigned as chairman of the Delta County Democratic Committee, an office he had held since 1958. He said that he needed additional time to engage in law practice and that the resignation was unrelated to his candidacy for Council in the city's non-partisan election.

He is a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the United Commercial Travelers, Delta Lodge No. 195 F & A. M., of the Delta County Bar and its past president, and the State Bar of Michigan.

Sen. Milliken Predicts OK Of Romney Budget

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Sen. William Milliken of Traverse City, who is seeking the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, predicted Friday the legislature will pass Gov. George W. Romney's proposed 1964-65 budget.

Milliken, in a speech to the Downtown Republican Club here, termed Romney's budget "the greatest investment ever made by Michigan state government in people."

He said the budget would be especially effective in caring for the public's needs in the fields of mental health, education, and personal services to the underprivileged and handicapped.

James P. Chapekis

He is also a former friend of the court for Delta County and presently is Delta County's Public Administrator.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapekis reside at 1713 10th Ave. S., and Mrs. Chapekis is the former Rita Boudreau of Escanaba.

Voters of the City of Escanaba will, at the April 6 election choose three councilmen for terms of four years. The terms of Councilmen Wesley Hansen, Jacob Bink and George Rusch are expiring. Hansen is not seeking reelection. Councilmen Bink and Rusch are candidates.

Other candidates are H. George Nelson, Cecil Chase, Mason Johnson and Edward J. Liberty.

The deadline for candidates to file nominating petitions at the office of City Clerk Don Guindon is 5 p. m. Tuesday, March 17.

Inspection Set For Company E

Members of Company E (Bridge) will stand an inspection in ranks before the commanding officer of the 107th Engineer Battalion, Col. Austin Lindberg, with members of his staff from Ishpeming headquarters, at Tuesday's training assembly.

After inspection there will be classes for the new recruits and the rest of the company will attend a class on floating bridge nomenclature, with Sgt. William Buchholz of Escanaba Rte 1 the instructor.

On Sunday, March 22, the entire unit will hold an eight hour training assembly, where subjects such as rigging, vehicle operation and first aid will be taught. Capt. George Anderson, unit commander, said the long periods of training give the men a chance to put class room training into practical use.

The drive for new members enters its fourth week with an addition of two new men: Duane Livermore, Escanaba, a veteran of four years in the Navy, and James Noggle, Gladstone, a new recruit.

The recruiting will continue, said Capt. Anderson, until all quotas for each bridge section have been filled. A bridge company depends on many men in specialist positions and bridge helps to successfully operate as a division bridge unit.

The entire 46th Infantry Division of Michigan has only this one bridge company with its many combat bridges to cross assault troops in an amphibious operation. Every man has an important function to perform in the unit, whether he is a recruit or a veteran, said Capt. Anderson.

Death Takes Andrew Ranec

HERMANVILLE — Andrew Ranec, 77, died at 7 p. m. Sunday at the Anderson Memorial Hospital in Norway where he had been a patient for three days.

Mr. Ranec was born Feb. 7, 1887, in Yugoslavia. He was a member of the Hermansville Croatian Lodge.

He came to Hermansville in 1921 and for the past 23 years made his home with Mrs. Ajatha Ivacko of Hermansville. He leaves two brothers in Yugoslavia.

Friends may call at the Kell-Tondin Chapel in Spalding Tuesday at 4 p. m. Services will be Wednesday, 9:30 a. m. at St. Mary's Church in Hermansville with Rev. Fr. Patrick Frankard officiating and burial will be in Meyer Township Cemetery.

The rosary will be recited Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the chapel.

A sure cure for Insomnia

You've heard the joke. "The best cure for insomnia is a good night's sleep." Not funny to someone suffering "white nights," but true, monetheless. Too-frequent use of sleeping pills can be bad. Even if they do not cause true addiction they may have a strong psychological effect. Users sometimes come to depend on them. So sleeping pills—any kind—should be taken only when a physician prescribes, and only in the amount directed.

Jack Ruby Doomed

A Dallas, Texas jury deliberated only 2 hours, 24 minutes Saturday before announcing that it had found Jack Ruby guilty of the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, the assassin of President Kennedy, and ordering his execution in the electric chair.

Defense Attorney Melvin Belli immediately charged that "This thing was the greatest kangaroo railroad in history." You have to be an American to decipher this Bellinese. A kangaroo court is a hobo court of summary "justice" and the term has come to describe a process for pre-conceived punishment. To "railroad" is to incarcerate or otherwise punish an innocent man.

There was no question that Ruby, an underworld fringe fellow who tried to associate himself with noted people, killed Oswald. Millions saw him do it in the Dallas jail as they watched Oswald's transfer on television. (The sheriff, to oblige television, had set up the transfer for daylight photography.)

The case would make any defense attorney world famous and Belli was darned near there already with his San Francisco law practice as "The King of Torts" (contract actions subject to lawsuits) by winning so many whopping verdicts that he influenced insurance actuarials. Belli pleaded Ruby not guilty by reason of temporary insanity, brought in medical evidence that he was a rare type of epileptic, and pictured him as "a very sick man, a character around town, the village idiot, if you like." The defense based its case entirely on Ruby's alleged insanity.

The prosecution pictured Ruby as a "vicious, cold-blooded murderer—a thrill killer," and District Attorney Henry Wade said "They didn't make a very good case of it and didn't ask for leniency or mercy."

And the jury didn't show any. It's prompt conviction and order for an execution had Belli crying "We're back 2,000 years. Dallas is 'a city of shame' forevermore."

It must be wondered if both Belli and the jury were not "right." He that compulsions stronger than modern medical evidence of mental condition and its association with justice prevailed with the jury. And the jury that Dallas had had enough "shame" as the scene of the assassination of President Kennedy and then of his assassin and then of circus like proceedings at the trial of Ruby.

The jury is the key to our system of justice. It is the supreme arbiter of fact. Its members bring a complex of judgment to the verdict. They are much more ready to admit consideration of the defendant's mental condition into their deliberations today than their fathers or grandfathers were. The court's charge on the law has changed, too. We no longer send the insane to the gallows.

But the jury watched Ruby for weeks, heard about his life, his murderous act, and promptly doomed him. Belli had insisted from the first that his client could not get a fair trial in Dallas, so emotionally shaken by the assassination of President Kennedy, and when the verdict was in he said immediately that he would appeal, that there had been 30 reversible errors committed in the trial, that one juror, before he was called for duty, had said that if he were on the jury he would vote the death penalty.

So there will be appeals to exercise all the legal safeguards of the law against an error in justice. If the juror said that, his words will be put in context and it will be determined if he perjured himself when asked if he had any preconceived convictions and could not make up his mind on the basis of the evidence presented.

Jack Ruby was doomed last Saturday, but it will take two more years to confirm that doom and extinguish his life for the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald if Belli uses all the avenues of appeal.

That gives Belli two years as well as Ruby. He's said he would stop practicing law if he doesn't win a reversal of the verdict, which legal history may judge as having been directed toward Belli as well as Ruby, for the American image of justice gained nothing in Dallas in recent weeks. The circuit judges of Detroit felt so strongly about it that they spoke their criticism publicly.

The Doctor Says:

Choose Sitters With Care

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

You should choose your baby sitter with even more care than when choosing a new car. She should:

- Be willing and able to follow instructions and be truly fond of children.
- Never let a stranger into the house nor entertain her friends there without your permission.
- Not take advantage by raiding the refrigerator or using the telephone.
- Not become so absorbed in radio or television she fails to hear the baby cry. If the baby does, she should make a quick check to rule out any serious cause.

Having chosen your sitter, see that she has all the information she may need. Show her where the telephone is and give her the phone numbers of the police and fire departments, family doctor and places where you can be reached. Show her how to change a fuse and in winter, how to regulate the heat. She should also know where your first aid supplies are kept. Be sure she knows where all the emergency exits are.

Do not hire a sitter if the child has a cold or other contagious disease. And if the sitter has a cold, do not employ her. If you get home late you should escort the sitter to her home.

Observance of these simple rules will increase your peace of mind and will be appreciated by a sitter whose services you may want to use again.

Q—What causes a child to be born with so-called hereditary defects?

A—I assume you want to know why a child may be born with any defects. True hereditary defects are caused by some abnormality that is carried in the genes found in either the sperm or ovum. These genes predetermine such structural features as the size, shape and color of various parts of the body. Hereditary defects are accentuated if there is a close kinship between the husband and wife.

Other causes of congenital defects can be traced to certain virus diseases occurring in the first three months of pregnancy, (most notably German measles), or a diet grossly lacking in certain essential nutrients—especially folic acid. This is a vitamin found in chicken liver, asparagus, broccoli, lettuce and spinach.

Certain drugs—as was so tragically shown in the case of thalidomide sleeping pills—can be a cause. And the exposure of the mother's ovaries or of the embryo to large doses of X-ray can have harmful effects.

TOO MUCH PROTECTION

SLOVAC, Yugoslavia (AP)—After two burglaries in his shop, the owner of a store, in this Serbian community had heavy bars put on the doors and windows. That stopped the thieves. But when a fire broke out inside one night, firemen couldn't get past the bars and the store burned down.

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — If some experts in population movements are right, racial confrontations will be widely distributed through the country in the next few decades.

In sessions with fellow scientists, Dr. C. Horace Hamilton, professor of rural sociology of North Carolina State University of North Carolina, reports that "if the interregional migration patterns of the recent past should continue for only a few more decades, only 28 per cent of the nation's Negro population will live in the South."

By his figuring, about a fifth will live in the Northeast, a fourth in the North Central region and another fourth in the West.

His research indicates this "drastic redistribution" of the nation's Negro population could easily be reached by the year 2000.

He and some of his fellow specialists estimate that even as early as 1980, 54 per cent of U.S. Negroes will live outside the South.

In fact, their calculations indicate the Negro population of the U.S. North and West will double by 1980, bringing the total Negro population of these regions to almost 16 million.

Hamilton predicts the expected doubling of the non-southern Negro population between 1960 and 1980 "will upset present timetables for social and economic adjustment."

He calculates the number of Negro youth 15-19 years of age will double by 1970 and the 25-29 age group will double between 1970 and 1980. He thinks the central cities of the large metropolitan centers "no longer will be able to contain this explosive population." He says the Negro population "will inevitably increase its rate of invasion of heretofore exclusive white suburbs."

In the past 20 years, the number of Negroes in middle class and upper class occupations has increased around 300 per cent. Hamilton says "the growth of these middle and upper classes will provide further impetus toward invasion of the suburbs."

One important cause of this heavy Negro migration has been "technological unemployment," that is, farm mechanization. The farm population of 16 southern states dropped from 16 million in 1940 to 6 million in 1960.

Changing farm technology reduced the need for Negro tenant farmers and full-time resident hired hands. Many Negroes who owned farms didn't have the capital for the sizable amounts of equipment required in modern agriculture.

During the 30-year period, 1910-1940, the Negro population of the non-southern states tripled from 1-1 million in 1910 to 3 million in 1940. The percent of the nation's Negro population living outside the South rose from 11 per cent to 23.

In the 20 years since 1940, 3 million more Negroes left the Old South for the North and West. The migration and the high rate of natural increase among urban Negroes pushed the non-southern Negro population to 7.5 million.

Ask The Dentist

Q — Is smoking harmful to teeth?

A. — Other than causing stains, smoking doesn't appear to bother the teeth. But pipe stems or cigaret holders may cause tooth displacement or gum and bone damage due to the constant biting pressure on two or three teeth.

The present-day problem with many smokers is gum damage due to smoking irritants. All authoritative listings of the cause of gum troubles include excessive smoking. Some reported cases of oral cancer appear to be directly associated with tobacco irritants.

Something in smoking must be bad for us, no matter how we take it. An interesting medical note recently mentioned the Icelandic diet, which includes a high percentage of smoked fish. It was surmised that this item was responsible for the high rate of stomach cancer on the island.

Maybe the man was right who said the best thing that can happen to a smoky cook-out is rain.

Dentists have noticed that some persons reek of smoke the minute they open their mouths. Other smokers smell so little of tobacco that one must ask whether they smoke. This is not necessarily related to the quantity of tobacco used and it suggests that the ingredients in smoke are more readily "handed" or thrown-off by the non-smokers.

Dentists' impressions are that among smokers, gum conditions are worse in those persons whose mouths reek of smoke. Glossy, puffy-looking gums with occasional deep, dry gum pockets alongside some teeth and bad gum recession in other areas are suggestive of smoke irritation, particularly if there is no local debris to suspect as the cause of the unhealthy condition.

So if you're smoking more these days, but enjoying it less, maybe your gums just can't take 10 times the smoke that the best cured hams get. One thing seems certain: Any complete effort to avoid dentures must include avoidance of tobacco, especially for the reekers.

GET OFF OUR BACKS

(To: Delta County Taxpayers Association.)

I don't know what you or your committee think of the City of Escanaba, but to me, I am—and most of us are—taxpayers—this is one of the cleanest and better organized cities in the Upper Peninsula.

As for your statement in the Press of March 13, you were talking for the Taxpayers Association and I don't think you or the Association has any right to question the holiday after Thanksgiving that the city employees get. We give up two half-days to get that.

As for service to the public, any time an emergency comes up in many kind of service for the city, the boss of that department just has to pick up the phone and someone is there to take care of it.

I wish you people would leave the city and its employees alone. I think the City of Escanaba is one of the best managed and also the cleanest cities in the Upper Peninsula and it is maintained by taxpayers also. Thank you.

Get off our backs.

TEACHER TENURE

We had before us the Teacher Tenure Petition upon which I voted "no." I believe a long case can be made for my feelings on voting "no" for this type of legislation. In brief, however, I feel now as I have felt ever since I took public office in Michigan—that in all fairness to the everyday citizen, who is not a member of any particular group or special interest group, his feelings and his minority position must be maintained.

I feel that in this legislation we again are witnesses to a state putting controls upon all the people without their right of compliance or noncompliance. I feel that taking over individual teacher tenure, as it has become so, it puts Michigan in the position to dictate to local school groups and local school areas and does not in a position where they should decide on their own local level.

I read into the adoption of this petition questions in the future that disturb me and many citizens to wit: When does the state stop taking over local area problems? When does the local area say to the state, "You have given us these rules and regulations and now you control completely what we have." I see future movement to the local areas to give their entire problems back to the state and, who is the State to say or tell you things to do yourself? I do not believe we can live half-demanding and half-refusing.

To me, this is the crux of the petition; not whether there should be teacher tenure on a state level but whether the legislature should move very directly into the control of local schools. We have seen this manifested on a national level and now it is creeping into the state level. My position has not been whether I am for or against teachers, but rather where does the State move as it goes forward into this control of local school areas? This I abhor. And to this I give you my reason for a "no" vote on Teacher Tenure.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been bothered by a personal problem and have been watching your column hoping someone else would write in about it. Nobody has.

Why do women get crushed on their doctors? I'm happily married and have two children. I'm strictly a one-man woman and have never considered having an affair. Yet I'm sure if my doctor crooked his little finger I'd topple in a minute.

Of course my husband has no inkling of my feelings or he'd insist I change doctors. That would kill me. I have a world of faith in this physician and I even look forward to my visits to his office. I confess I actually manufacture little excuses to see him more often than is necessary.

Believe me, Ann, this isn't going to lead to anything. All I want to know is why do I feel this way?—GUILTY SECRET

Dear Secret: It is not uncommon for a woman to develop an emotional attachment to her doctor. And it's understandable, because to her the doctor is a symbol of help, compassion, relief from pain, faith, hope, confidence, comfort, and peace of mind.

To a woman, the doctor is the strong, wise, considerate, saintly man who listens patiently to her complaints—unless of course the doctor happens to be her husband.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl nine years old who already has a problem for Ann Landers. I did not expect one for at least three years but here it is already.

This boy I used to like lived next door to me until he moved to Kansas three years ago with his parents. I cried when he went away. He didn't write to me but I can't blame him for

State May O.K. More Seasonal Liquor Licenses

By KEN SINER
Associated Press Writer
LANSING (AP) — It looks more and more as if this will be the year Michigan loosens up a bit on the issuance of seasonal liquor licenses to bolster the tourist and sportsmen trade.

For two decades, the legislature has not allowed any increase in the maximum of 550 such nine-month licenses authorized when resort liquor licenses first were innovated. After weeks of compromise, argument and re-drafting, Rep. Walter Nakkula, R-Gladwin, came up with what he calls a modest proposal that stands a good chance of becoming law. It already has gotten a favorable initial response from two men vital to Nakkula's plan—the chairmen of the Senate and House liquor control committees.

Not Transferable
Nakkula calls it a "pilot program, to demonstrate these licenses are important to the economy of all tourist areas—not just the north but the Thumb and the west as well."
Nakkula's program, now in the House committee, would:
—Increase resort licenses from 9 to 10 months and eliminate a requirement that these be consecutive months.
—Authorize issuance of 10 additional resort licenses this year and for the coming four years.
—Maintain stringent controls over the new licenses so they would benefit the genuine tourist establishment and not "main street bars."

sale opening up of the licensing picture," Nakkula says. The unique licenses would be non-transferable and would revert to the state if a motel or ski lodge holding one went out of business.

"The license belongs to the state," he says. "I don't think it's right for a man to carry a license around in his pocket for sale to the highest bidder."

Approval Predicted
Rep. Edward Borgman, R-Grand Rapids, chairman of the House Liquor Control Committee, predicts the Nakkula bill will pass to the House floor in the coming week.

Sen. Paul Younger, R-Lansing, who heads the Senate counterpart, has not yet studied the much-amended Nakkula bill but said on the face of it, "in view of the growth of these tourist areas, a reasonable extension, I would assume, would be in line."

Younger takes a less charitable view of a more liberal bill sponsored by Sen. Harold Hughes, R-Clare, which is in Younger's committee.
"That one would give the Liquor Control Commission unlimited authority to issue all the resort licenses it wants," said Younger.
"Hughes has indicated he will go right along with my version," says Nakkula. Hughes and Nakkula head the committees on tourism in their respective houses.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.
In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.
Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.
This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Garden Peninsula Group Meeting

The Kates Bay Grange met Tuesday night with Rufus Spaulding presiding. Arrangements were made to install a new floor in the kitchen of the hall. Members discussed a package deal insurance policy issued by the National Grange Mutual Insurance Co. During the social hour card prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. George Coppess, Mrs. Louis Farley and Rufus Spaulding. The next meeting will be held April 14.

Out of town relatives who attended the funeral of Edmond Martin were: Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cooper, Iron Mountain; Mrs. John Baker, Niagara, Wis.; Leo Leveille, Cooks; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Martin, Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vasau, Mrs. Don Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Armstrong, and Mrs. Geraldine Martin and family, Manistique.

Mrs. Myrtle Lang is expected home soon from a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lang and family of Alpena and with her brother, Clarence Pizzala of Auburn Heights, Mich.

Mrs. David Thill returned home Saturday after spending a week in Milwaukee with her sons, Francis and Homer Ansell, their wives and families and a week in Chicago with her sister, Mrs. Nina Davis.
Mr. and Mrs. John Guertin left Friday morning to return to Colorado Springs after attending the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Marie Guertin. They were guests in Manistique at the homes of their sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Guertin and Mr. and Mrs. John Guertin Jr. Enroute to Colorado Springs they will stop off at Canton, Ill., for a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gary Guertin and family who recently moved there from Colorado Springs.

Killed In Tavern

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Jake Williams, 39, of Benton Harbor, was shot and killed at a Benton Harbor tavern Saturday night. Police held Kenneth Smith, 49, also of Benton Harbor, for investigation of murder. Authorities said the shooting erupted from an argument.

Canadian Ship To Open Season

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The Canadian freighter Yank-canuk will load 2,000 tons of steel at the Soo, Ont., Tuesday and head down into the lower lakes.

The 360-foot freighter, which is starting its second season on the lakes, will be escorted down the St. Marys River by the Canadian icebreaker Alexander Henry.

In preparation for the opening of the navigation season, the U.S. Coast Guard icebreaker tug Naugatuck Monday will start breaking ice down to Munuscong Bay 28 miles south of the Soo.

Marine circles said there was a possibility of the navigation season getting under way by April 1 with the opening of the Soo Locks. The usual opening is about the second week in April.

Canadian ship owners are hoping for an early opening to get started on grain hauling. Some of the Canadian freighters are already loaded with grain and ready to get going.

Railway Service Loss Threatens Cheboygan Plant

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—Threatened loss of railroad freight service could force the shutdown of the Charmin Paper Products Co. mill here, the firm said Friday.

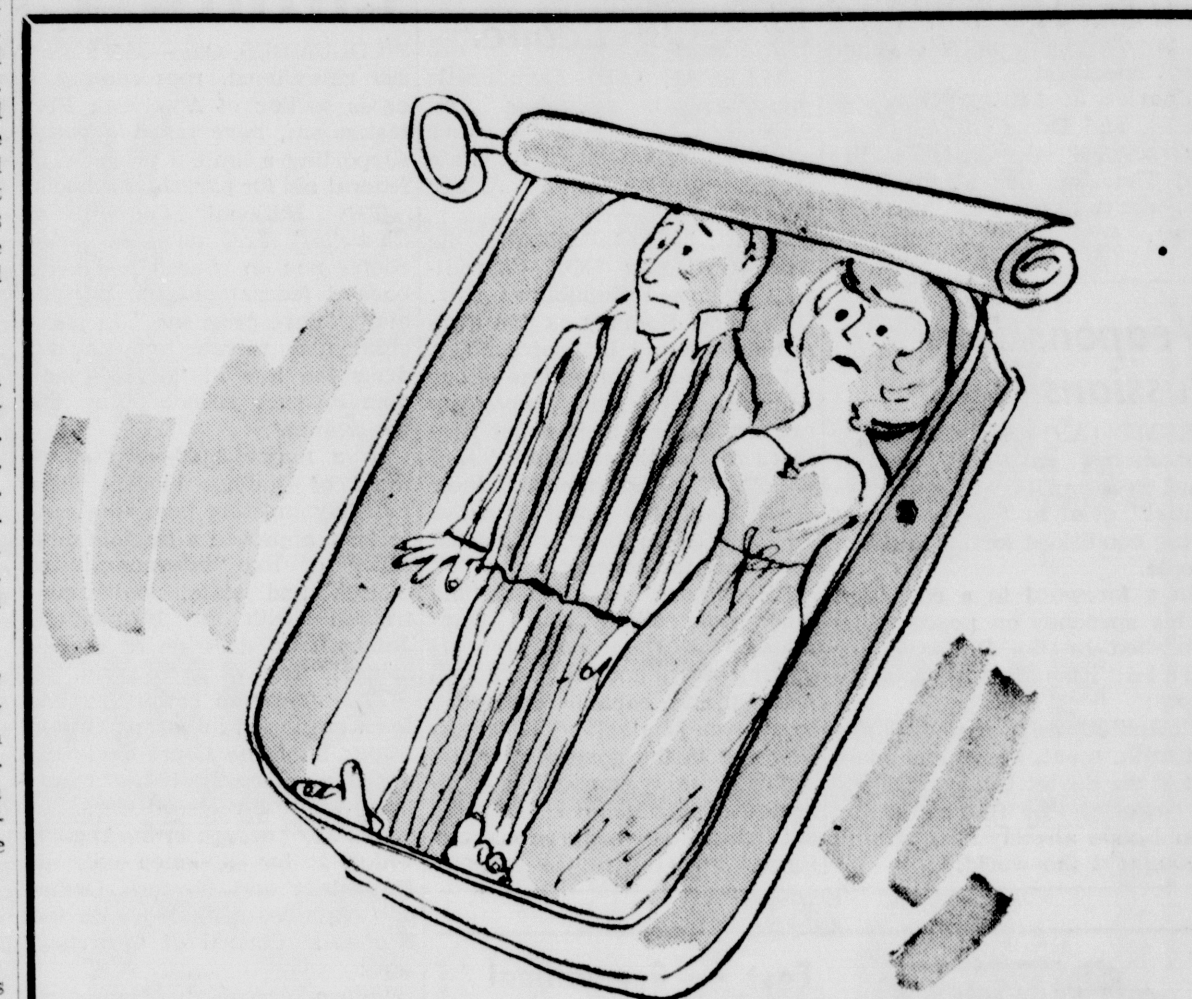

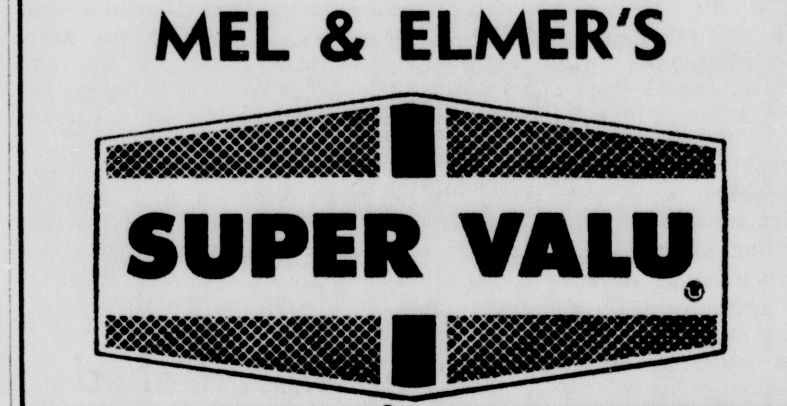

The mill has a payroll of 76 persons who receive a total of half a million dollars a year.

The end of rail service would "almost certainly" prevent any major future expansion, Charmin officials said. Norman Raymaker, mill manager, said the firm's operating costs would go up because of extra transportation expenses.

MSU Extension On NMU Campus

One of the first organizations to move into the new east wing of the University Center on Northern Michigan University's campus is the Michigan State University Extension Center for the Upper Peninsula.

The move, from the center's old location at 700 W. Bluff St., has been completed.

The staff of the MSU Center consists of 10 agents and specialists and the regional director, Dr. Albert S. Mowery.

Mowery said that the center staff is maintained to serve Upper Peninsula citizens through MSU's 14 county extension offices. Twenty-five county directors and agents work out of the 14 offices most of whom are located in county seats across the U. P.

Staff members attached to the Marquette center include: Mrs. Ingrid Bartelli, consumer marketing information agent; Emil Fimbinger, district youth agent; James W. Gooch, information specialist and district coordinator of MSU's continuing education service.

Richard T. Hartwig specialist in agricultural economics and marketing; Dr. Margaret Jacobson program leader for home economics and family living; Roy E. Skog forestry specialist; Dr. David H. Smith, Jr., crops science specialist; Abram P. Snyder, community development specialist.

Charles J. Little, dairy specialist, and Donald L. Thurlow, soil science specialist. (Little and Thurlow live at the MSU Experiment Station in Chatham).

Dr. Mowery revealed that the MSU Center arranged for 99 downstate and outstate resource people to answer Upper Peninsula service requests last year.

"These 99 persons spent a total of 467 days in the U. P. last year—providing knowledge resources not generally available locally—at about the same cost as would be required for maintaining four more full-time staff members in the U. P.," Mowery stressed.

Over 200,000 attended information and training meetings conducted by MSU county and district staff members last year. Many of the district meetings are held in Marquette.

MSN has maintained an extension center in the U. P. for over 45 years. The center was once located at Chatham and later was housed in the Marquette County Courthouse and in the Harlow Block before being moved to the Bluff St. address in 1957.

In 1957 MSU merged its continuing education and cooperative extension services to better serve total community needs in the U. P. This was the first such merger in the U. S.

Staebler Called 'Paper Panther' By GOP Leader

ALLEGAN (AP)—Democratic gubernatorial candidate Al Staebler was termed "a paper panther" Friday night by State Republican Chairman Arthur Elliott.

Elliott, in a talk before the Allegan County GOP Committee, described Republican Gov. George W. Romney as "an awesome dynamo" in contrast.

"Here in the springtime of our campaign year the opponents are trotting out their paper panthers for public exposure," said Elliott. "At the moment, their most persistent chest thumper appears to be their announced candidate for governor."

"Even now," said Elliott, "the labor boss clique which commands the Democrat party is looking for another, more appealing and capable contender to replace this self-styled chest-thumper in the governor's race."

Elliott said Staebler had no record of leadership in his present post of congressman-at-large.

Protestant Pastors For Limited Parochial Aids

COLUMBUS, Ohio—More than 200 churchmen, representing a cross section of American Protestantism, have taken a stand supporting a limited program of federal aid for parochial schools.

The National Council of Churches' first national study conference on church and state backed federal aid for "health and welfare programs" in parochial and private schools but drew the line at "overall support of such schools" by the government.

In a major 3,000-word statement of findings closing their four-day meeting here, the conference approved a flexible definition of the "interaction" of church and state, which contrasted with the 162-year-old Jeffersonian doctrine of an absolute "wall of separation."

The Jefferson metaphor has been employed in recent United States Supreme Court decisions dealing with school bus transportation and released time.

The key passage in the report, which is for guidance only of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches affiliated with the National Council of Churches, said:

"Since parochial elementary and secondary schools are maintained by churches so that 'religion permeates the entire atmosphere' of the school, government funds should not be authorized or appropriated for overall support of such schools as distinguished from aid in support of specific programs conducted by such institutions to meet particular needs."

Transition Cited

The whole flavor of the document urging "reevaluation" of church-state relations in the context of an emerging pluralistic American society represented a victory for progressive churchmen who, over and over again, called for a new look at church-state issues.

"The necessity for new attention to the problems of church-state relations arises not only from the expansion of government programs in areas where churches and other voluntary agencies have served and continue to serve, but also from a transition of this nation from a Protestant to a religiously pluralistic society."

In spelling out limitations on parochial aid the churchmen said the government could "legitimately" support "specific" programs of church-affiliated health and welfare agencies under well-defined circumstances.

Aims Outlined

These were: that the government's program must not be aimed primarily at the support of religious institutions or objectives; that any support of church-affiliated agencies must be an incidental part of a large program directed to appropriate public interests; that the agency does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed or national origin, and that reversionary clauses, limited to a fixed and reasonable period, be written into contracts with religiously-affiliated agencies.

Government funds should not be used "to support religious teaching," the findings said. On the other hand, the government has an obligation to support education and the free choice of parents.

"While we acknowledge the right of parental choice of schools," the delegates said, "we do not admit that a choice by parents of parochial or private schools imposes on the state any obligation to support such a choice through the granting of public funds in overall support of such schools."

Weapons First, Russians Told

ROME (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev says his country must keep up its "defensive potential" even at the expense of living conditions for the Russian people.

In a foreword to a collection of his speeches on peace to be published by the Italian editor Giulio Einaudi, Khrushchev wrote:

"Missiles and cannons are not milk, meat, bread and soup, but if the Soviet Union were not so powerful, the flames of war would have already been ignited throughout the world."

After 30 Years, Sally Has Never Lost A Fan

By DICK KLEINER
NEW YORK (NEA) — She looks as if she might be your little daughter's dancing school teacher or the lady at the bank or the girl at the supermarket check-out counter.
You would never suspect that the small, quietly dressed blonde was Sally Rand, the girl who made the fan a lethal weapon.
Nowadays, she still dances at fairs and clubs and hotels. The idea of retiring hasn't entered her mind. While her past triumphs far exceed her present glories, she is reasonably content nonetheless.
Sally Rand, who will narrate NBC's story of carnivals, "Carny," on April 12, burst into prominence from the back of a horse in 1933. That was when she played Lady Godiva and crashed the party celebrating the imminent opening of the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition.

This stunt was such a grabber that the Streets of Paris show was forced to hire her—at $90 a week. And she did her fan dance, which she had been doing in Chicago and Louisville and New Orleans for six months without anyone seeming to care one way or another.

But this time, because of all that publicity, people noticed. They became aware that, as the band played Chopin and Debussy and the fans fluttered in the blue light, every once in a while they could catch a small glimpse (maybe) of Miss Rand in the altogether.

Whether she was nude or not has never been completely established. It really never mattered. Miss Rand became the hit of the show and people came from miles away to try and see between the feathers. Sally Rand and Her Fan Dance and the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition became synonymous.

Today, 31 years later, there is nothing flashy about Sally Rand. She gives the impression of wishing that she could be somebody else.

"I would like to do some acting," she says. "People forget that I was an actress. I was in a play with DeWolf

Hopper when I reached Chicago in '32—we were stranded so I had to turn to dancing.

"But when I try for a part, and I say my name is Sally Rand, they won't give it to me. I wanted a part in 'The Nurses.' And I thought I was right for the road company of 'Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?' But nobody thinks Sally Rand could possibly be an actress."

So it's fairs for Sally Rand these days. It's not a bad life, although it's physically exhausting. She's proud of the fact that last summer, in Dallas, she drew 14,000 people in one day—at $1 the head—and did 20 shows to entertain them.

"I've been going to state and county fairs since I was a girl," she says. "As a child, back in Sedalia, Mo., we'd always go to the fair. I'd take my fat little calf or my pig. My fat little calf won a red ribbon once. Years later, I played that same fair as the star attraction."

The fact that the New York World's Fair will have no midway distresses her. She doesn't think it can be much of a fair without a midway.

"A fair without a midway," she says, "is like a tail without a dog."

ON-THE-SPOT RECORD
HONOLULU (AP) — Honolulu Police Department is setting up a miniature 'movie studio' to film drunk-driving suspects.

Police Chief Dan Liu said the movies will be in color, and possibly will have a soundtrack. Liu said the movies should "pretty well tell the effects of a person's drinking" and added the voice recordings would indicate slurred speech and other symptoms of intoxication.

Peninsula Potpourri

IRONWOOD — Members of the Finnish American Culture Center Committee are seeking items suitable for display in the center, if one is established in this area. The proposed center would show items of traditional Finnish households, barn, agricultural and sporting equipment, and local folk arts. Creation of a Finnish village has been discussed.

IRON MOUNTAIN—Starting salaries for Breitung Township school teachers next year will be $4,800. The board also approved Teachers Club recommendations that accumulated sick leave be increased from 50 to 90 days and that it be allowed at the rate of one day per month.

NORWAY—D. Carol Asp, of Norway has been elected president of the new Southeast Dickinson County School District. Miss Ellen Solomonson, Norway, was elected secretary.

IRON RIVER — The State Highway Department has turned down a request from the Iron County Chamber of Commerce for permission to place a surplus jet aircraft on the U.S. 2 right-of-way near the chamber office.

L'ANSE—A new teacher salary schedule providing pay hikes averaging $200 per year for each of three years has been adopted by the L'Anse Township Board of Education. The new schedule calls for a starting salary of $4,600 for teachers holding bachelor degrees, with a maximum of $6,400. For instructors who have earned master degrees, the salary range will run from $5,100 to $6,900. The new schedule calls for pay increments of $200 for 10 years of service, an additional $200 for those with 15 years of tenure, and another $200 for teachers who have taught 20 years in the L'Anse system.

Injuries Fatal

BAY CITY (AP) — Unconscious since she was injured in an automobile collision last June 14, Mrs. Sarah Nicholson, 65, of Bay City, died Friday. Brain damage was among injuries she suffered in the smashup on U.S. 23 west of Omer.

Bullet Wounds Schaffer Boy

Donald Pilon, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Pilon, Rte. 1 Bark River, is reported in good condition in St. Francis Hospital today. He was accidentally shot in the hip about 2:10 p.m. Sunday.

Donald, with his brother Edward, 15, and a companion, Robert Potvin, 15, were in a field across the road from the Pilon home. They had a loaded 22 calibre rifle with them and Edward accidentally knocked the rifle down, it hit a pile of rocks and discharged. The bullet lodged in Donald's hip near the spine and according to Sheriff's officers, who investigated, he was not in a critical area.

Bids For Addition To Pinecrest Will Be Opened April 1

Administrator Gene L. Marcantonio of the Pinecrest Medical Care Facility at Powers announced today that the date for receiving bids on the addition and remodeling of the facility has been extended from March 31 to April 7.

The bids will be received at Marcantonio's office at 2 p. m., E. S. T. The change in date is to allow contractors more time for studying of the plans and specifications and for preparing their bids.

It is expected that both Ben Nichols, Hospital Planning Consultant of the Hospital & Medical Facilities Division of the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing, and Architect Harry W. Gjelsteen, Menominee, will attend the bid opening.

Carnegie Will Stock Library At Rapid River

Over 14,000 residents of Delta County lack library service because there is no locally supported library for them to use.

The residents of Gladstone can use the Gladstone School Public Library and the residents of Escanaba can use their locally supported Carnegie Public Library.

The other residents of the county can use the Upper Peninsula Branch of the Michigan State Library or they can pay a yearly fee and get a card at one of the two public libraries in the county. But such persons desiring library service must travel, in some cases quite a distance, to get the service. The U.P. Branch is not a public library, but a reference center for the entire Upper Peninsula as well as a source of library service by mail for the 80,000 residents in the U. P. without public libraries.

The Rapid River area, composed of Masonville, Ensign and Bay de Noc townships, does not have a local public library. A few months ago a group of local citizens formed a committee to see what they could do to get library service in their area. Mrs. Thomas Safford and Mrs. Lloyd Stenlund

Immunization At Rapid River And Webster School

Delta-Menominee Health Department is continuing immunizing students at schools and pre-schoolers this week.

Thursday morning, March 19, children of Rapid River will be immunized. Monday, March 23, Webster School children will be taken care of in the morning.

Each child receiving any of the immunizations offered will be given a record for future reference. Immunizations offered are polio, tetanus, diphtheria and small pox.

The polio vaccine for the school program is being furnished by the National Foundation for the March of Dimes, Delta County Chapter.

Briefly Told

Applications for marriage license were made to County Clerk William Butler by Roger C. Olson, Minneapolis and JoAnne Taylor of 911 Washington Ave., and Harold F. Schermer, Chicago and Judith M. Anderson, 516 S. 14th St.

Escanaba firemen were called out three times on Sunday, twice because of grass fires, one of which caused damage to the exterior of a dwelling in Wells. First call was to Old State Road at about 3 p. m. and the other call to Wells followed a few minutes later. Third call was to the Robert Gannon dwelling, 426 S. 15th St., where a chimney fire caused no damage.

Gust Kuaras, 71, of Cornell Rte. 1, had a busy weekend in the Escanaba area and in Justice A. J. Mortier's court at Gladstone today paid $5 and $10 restitution, and in Escanaba municipal court paid $19 and $5. Sheriff Cully Johnson arrested Kuaras for driving his car over a lawn and striking a fence; and in Escanaba police ticketed him for failing to stop and identify at a property damage accident and failing to exercise due care and caution.

Traffic court tickets have been issued by Escanaba police to Steven G. Fether, Chicago, speeding and improper turn; Robert T. Brown, 602 Stephenson Ave., speeding and improper lane usage; Walter C. DeGroot Jr., Garden, disobeying traffic signal; Gary Lee Pirlot, 313 N. 19th St., defective head light; and Donald L. Olstrom, 1419 Sheridan Road, failing to exercise due care. Olstrom's car hit a light pole in an accident Sunday night and the driver suffered a cut on the head.

Delta County Sheriff's officers were notified about 6 p. m. Sunday by Mrs. Clarence Hansen, Rte. 1 Escanaba, that her husband had not returned home from retrieving his fishing nets in Bay de Noc. Hansen had left home after lunch and was in a rowboat. Sheriff's Department sent a plane from Municipal Airport to investigate and around 6:30 p.m., Hansen returned safely to shore.

Damage, not extensive, was done to the George King residence in Wells, Sunday when a grass fire around the house caught the north side of the home and damaged the floor rafters. Smoke also damaged the house interior. Escanaba No. 2 Fire Department and Sheriff's officers were called to the scene and extinguished the fire. Damage has not been estimated.

contacted the State Library Branch for its advice and assistance. A series of meetings was held and the best solution seemed to be a book outlet furnished by an existing library in the county.

At its last meeting the Escanaba Carnegie Library Board of Trustees decided to undertake a Rapid River library project. The reasons for this action were: the desire of Rapid River citizens for some form of library service; the opportunity such service will provide for a cost-accounting study; the availability of State Library resources for underwriting the cost of the project; and, the fact that such a service outlet is in line with the long range goals of the Escanaba Public Library.

The local committee in Rapid River will provide housing, shelving, and volunteer workers. The Escanaba Library will provide a rotating collection of books, service and administrative detail. The cost of these will be underwritten by the Michigan State Library and will not result in use of Escanaba City funds.

The length of the project will depend on the outcome of House Bill 365 now in the Michigan Legislature. This is a bill to both implement the new Constitution and clarify the distribution of penal fines. It provides that penal fines shall be distributed to qualified public libraries and in those counties where there are residents without qualified public libraries, as here in Delta County, that a county library board shall be formed to receive the share of penal fines for the unserved population.

This county library board then shall contract with a qualified public library within or without the county to provide library service for the previously unserved persons.

"The residents of the Rapid River area will receive limited library service through the program as envisioned by the local committee and the Board of Trustees of the Escanaba Library," said Harry Courtwright, director Carnegie Public Library, as he announced this new program. "The best way to find out if the general public wants library service and is willing to pay for it is to give a taste of what the library can do. This project will do that in the Rapid River area."

"It is hoped that the Rapid River library project can begin by June. Interested residents are invited to contact one of the local chairman or the Escanaba Carnegie Public Library for details."

Hoffa Takes His Case To U. S. Appeals Court

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — James R. Hoffa now takes his case to the U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals, having gone through the technicality of asking for, and being denied a new trial on a jury-fixing conviction.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson denied Hoffa's new-trial motion Saturday. But the president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters already had announced he would appeal all the way, if necessary, to the supreme court.

Hoffa has been sentenced to 8 years in prison and fined $10,000 for trying to fix the jury that heard his 1962 Nashville conspiracy trial.

Highway Death Toll Doubled To 19 Persons

By The Associated Press
Nineteen persons—More than twice as many as a week ago—were killed over the weekend in Michigan highway crashes, with one accident wiping out a family of five and another taking four lives.

All the deaths resulted from collisions in southern Lower Michigan where State Police are working six days a week in a campaign to halt the rising fatality rate. Nine persons died last weekend in Michigan traffic.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said Sunday the number of multiple-fatality accidents this year was extraordinary.

British Blizzard Leaves 3 Dead

LONDON (AP) — Gales and blizzards left three persons dead in Britain today. Two Royal Scouts were missing in a howling snowstorm in the north Derbyshire moors.

Widespread floods covered farmlands in southern England.

Precision Pilot Killed In Jump

APALACHICOLA, Fla. (AP) — Lt. George N. Neale, 29, one of the Navy's Blue Angel precision pilots, plunged to his death Sunday when his parachute failed to open fully after he ejected from his crippled jet.

A Navy spokesman said the flight demonstration team was returning to its base at Pensacola, Fla. from an air show at West Palm Beach when Neale's plane "experienced some sort of mechanical failure" west of Apalachicola, 167 miles east of Pensacola.

W.H. Meadows and his son Billy, said they heard a popping noise—like a backfire—before the jet fighter hit 200 yards from their home. Meadows said the pilot ejected at about 150 to 200 feet—too low for his chute to open fully.

Nixons Have Miami Vacation

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is in Florida for a week's vacation with his family.

Nixon, who carried Florida in his unsuccessful race for president four years ago, told newsmen in Miami the Republican party shouldn't write off the South this year.

"The polls indicate that the Republican party could carry no Southern state against President Johnson now," said Nixon. "But a lot of things can happen in six months and I feel that Florida and no Southern state should be written off."

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota says he would be honored if the Democratic party nominates him for vice president, but he's "not shopping around for new jobs."

Humphrey, appearing at a Four Freedoms Foundation dinner in New York City in his honor, was asked if he considered himself as a potential candidate for vice president. He replied:

"No I don't. I'm not a candidate for a single thing. My intention, if I feel us good as I do now, is to run for re-election."

Humphrey has been mentioned frequently as a possible running mate this year for President Johnson. His Senate term expires in 1966.

ROME (AP)—Pope Paul VI attended Lenten services at the Church of Our Lady of La Salette, then gathered a group of youngsters around him in front of the altar.

"How do we meet the Lord?" asked the Pope.

"We meet him through the Church," some of the children replied.

"There are some who say 'I have the Sacred Scripture and I read it by myself. It is enough. I do not need a POPE OR A Church.' Who says the Sacred Scripture is enough?" the Pope asked.

"The Protestants," replied the children.

"Yes," said Pope Paul, "but on the other hand they, too, have a need of priests and pastors."

KANSAS CITY (AP)—When the lord mayor of Dublin, Sean Moore, arrived for a visit to Kansas City Sunday, he was greeted at the airport by several hundred persons.

Many pushed forward to shake his hand.

"My name is Shultz," said one man, "but my mother was Irish."

"O'Shultz," corrected the lord mayor. "We're all Irish today."

Guerrillas Kill 6 U. S. Airmen In S. Viet Nam

SAIGON Viet Nam (AP) — Six more American airmen were killed in South Viet Nam during the weekend as Red guerrillas shot down a U.S. helicopter and a spotter plane.

Four of the airmen were aboard the helicopter which was hit by ground fire Sunday 100 miles south of Saigon.

The other two airmen were aboard an L19 spotter plane that was knocked down Saturday northeast of Saigon.

The six deaths brought to 124 the number of Americans killed in action in the Viet Nam war since the U.S. buildup in Viet Nam began in December 1961.

The Defense Department said the dead airmen were:

Aboard the spotter plane, Capt. Thomas J. Bergin, Schenectady, N.Y., and 1st Lt. Richard Jaack, Milwaukee, Wis.

Aboard the helicopter: 1st Lt. Roger E. Gauvin, pilot, Caribou, Maine; 1st Lt. Kenneth A. Va.; Spec. 5. Carleton W. Up-and find jobs for heads of families whose children now receive payments under the aid to dependent children program.

WORLD'S FAIR COMMEMORATIVE—The Post Office Department has unveiled a new five-cent stamp to commemorate the opening of the New York World's Fair at Flushing Meadows on April 22. The stamp, a horizontal green on white, shows the main mall of the fair with the Unisphere to the left. It will be placed on sale beginning April 22 at the Post Office Department's combination exhibit and working post office on the fairgrounds.

Cost Of New Agency Will Be Nearly Billion

So far, a White House source said, selection standards have not been set up for the Job Corps, nor have detailed plans been made for setting up the camps and job training center.

Leader Not Revealed

The source said many of the 40,000 recruited for the Job Corps in the first year would come from the backlog of more than one million already rejected by the draft as physically, mentally or psychologically unfit.

A source said an "outstanding educational leader" has been chosen to head the Job Corps, but refused to identify him.

Enlistment for the maximum two-year term of service would be voluntary.

Half of the young men recruited in the first year would be put to work in groups of 50 to 250 on "special conservation projects to give them education, useful work experience and to enrich the natural resources of the country."

The other half will go to the job training centers, where up to 5,000 will be congregated. Plans tentatively call for these centers to be located near cities with major educational facilities, so that the faculties may be used on a part-time basis.

The President revealed some of his poverty war plans Sunday night in a radio-television interview.

Johnson said the money for the poverty program had come from slicing money from the defense budget, adding, "so it will come from those who have it, to those who don't have it."

Power Fight Settled

Creation of the new agency came apparently as a compromise following a bureaucratic battle over who should control the program.

There were almost constant rumblings of this power fight during the six weeks that Shriver's special task force worked in secret on the bill.

In his broadcast interview Sunday, Johnson said:

"We realize it is a beginning. It is not an extremely comprehensive program. We are going to have Sargent Shriver in charge of coordinating the program between the agencies who already are working in that field—the Agriculture Department; the Justice Department; the Education and Welfare Department; the Health, Education and Welfare Department; the Labor Department; in manpower training. And we don't want to create more agencies, we want to use the ones we have."

Second Job For Shriver

Johnson said the war on poverty would "try to get at the roots and causes of poverty that cause 20 per cent of our people to live off less than $3,000 a year" and to do something "about half a million men that are rejected each year because of mental or physical reasons for service."

He added "we are going to try to recognize and proceed on the basis that illiteracy and ignorance and disease cost this government billions of dollars per year, and make for much unhappiness."

For a time the poverty planners seriously considered lowering the draft registration age for quicker screening of those young men who fail pre-induction physical and mental examinations, sources said so they could be reclaimed for useful roles in society.

This apparently has been shelved.

Shriver is expected to remain on his present job as director of the Peace Corps, for the time being. However, White House plans call for eventual replacement of him at the Peace Corps.

The 47-year-old brother-in-law of the late President Kennedy was handed the job of drafting the poverty program in early February.

Beaver Harvest May Be Whopper

The beaver trapping season in the Upper Peninsula, April 1-16 could be a dinger because of weather conditions favoring trapping.

Joseph Vogt, Escanaba District game supervisor of the Conservation Department, says that the beaver take is always strongly influenced by traffic conditions as well as the beaver population and this spring the lack of snow and low streams for the opener may boost the catch.

Beaver are very receptive toward protection, said Vogt. They multiply quickly in areas where they are protected from trapping and tend to radiate out from such centers. The Conservation Department's policy is maintain a good balance between the beavers and their natural food supplies.

They are beneficial in providing water for mink, muskrats and other wildlife; their ponds make duck waters and they also help fishing.

Vogt said that areas where the beaver need protection to increase their numbers have been closed to trapping. An April 1-20 season has been declared for a Zone A in northern Alger, Schoolcraft, Luce and Chippewa counties.

The Upper Peninsula supplies most of Michigan's beaver. It produced 16,000 pelts in 1961.

The Escanaba District, which comprises Marquette and Delta counties and west half of Alger, produced 1,146 beaver and 65 otter on 312 trapping licenses in 1963. This averaged 3.7 beaver per trapper. In 1962 the take was 3.2 beaver per trapper and in 1961 it was 3.7 beaver per trapper.

The otter take was way down in 1963 compared with 1962 and the population of these animals is being watched closely so they will not be overtrapped, said Vogt.

Driver Injured When Car Rams Pole, Building

Mrs. Kenneth Thorbjorsen, 36, of 219 Stephenson Ave., was injured at 12:40 p.m. Sunday when the car she was driving south on S. 23rd St. veered concrete marker, snapped off a utility pole, and stopped against the front of the new Harbour restaurant building.

She was taken to St. Francis Hospital where she is receiving x-ray examination.

Police said that Mrs. Thorbjorsen apparently "blacked out" at the wheel. She suffers from a type of epilepsy which prevents her from obtaining an operator's license. Officers issued tickets for driving without a license and for failing to exercise due care and caution.

Brendan Behan Remains In Coma

DUBLIN (AP) — Playwright Brendan Behan 41, was reported slightly improved today but still in a diabetic coma.

He was given the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church Sunday.

Behan was taken to Meath Hospital last Tuesday.

Newcomers' Fashion Show Marked As 'Glittering' Success

PRIZES WERE given for scene stealing at the Newcomer Club Fashion Show, "Fly High With Fashion," held Sunday the Easter Basket Set would certainly have walked off with all honors. Here are just five of the 15 youngsters who paraded in spring finery for the capacity crowd. From left to right are Janet Pariso (and "friend", Bowser), Tracy and Candy Thompson. Terri Goodman, carrying her friend, Rover and Sheryl St. Pierre, Little Miss Pariso is wearing a playsuit designed for active summer days on the beach or in the sandbox; Candy and brother, Tracy, are in playsuits with jackets to match. Topping their outfits are sun protectors, Candy in a sailor and Tracy has an Eton cap. Terri is dressed up for Sunday and parties complete with a hat of flowers. Sheryl is next in a dress-up outfit complete with hat and lacy purse. Children were just part of the spectacle Sunday evening, adult models, men and women, showed the newest styles in coats, suits, casual, afternoon and evening wear. The production was the 10th annual fashion show-dessert sponsored by the Escanaba Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club. (Daily Press Photos by Bernie Schultz)

Pot Luck Supper Held On Sunday By Mineral Queen

Mineral Queen Lodge held a pot luck supper Sunday evening at Grenier Hall for members and also for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. The affair was well attended and enjoyed.

Those attending took up a collection and gave it as a contribution to Leo Laviolette for the new Drop-In Center for Senior Citizens.

Combined Choirs In Cantata Palm Sunday

The combined adult choirs of the First Lutheran Church, Gladstone and the Bethany Lutheran Church of Escanaba will present the sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words Of Christ" by Theodore Dubois on Sunday, March 22 at 3 p.m. at the Bethany Lutheran Church, 11th St. and 1st Ave. S., Escanaba. Conrad Beck will direct the cantata choir composed of over 80 voices.

Soloists will be Mrs. Ellis Movalson and Miss Sandra Morin, soprano, Robert Schrader, tenor, Paul Cowen, baritone. Accompanists will be Don Aronson, organist, and Mrs. Paul Chown, pianist.

The community is invited to share in this Palm Sunday Cantata which opens the observance of Holy Week.

Canned hams and canned picnics are not the same. Ham comes from the hind quarter of the pork; the picnic, sometimes mistaken as ham, is from the pork shoulder.

Capacity Crowd Views 'Fly High With Fashion'

A record crowd of style-conscious people turned out Sunday evening for what probably was one of the most successful Newcomers Club fashion show-desserts in the 10 year history of the event.

The stage setting and floor decorations added a Spring-like touch that tied in beautifully with the array of fashions. The theme "Flying High With Fashion," was carried through by the ingenious use of kites and butterflies "flying high" from the Holy Name multi-purpose room ceiling. The stage was a fantasy of color, flowers and butterflies and the long ramp glittered with flickering lights.

As in previous years, the children, "stole the show" by either being coy and apprehensive or seeming confident. The hearts of the audience melted as they came out from behind the scenes to face the glaring bright lights and the 800 eyes.

Poised Models

Adult models were poised and professional and displayed a colorful selection of fashions. Newest ideas for 1964 seemed to be the sleeveless coat, mohair blend fabric and a 3/4-length suit coat jacket. Hats were either straw or brimming with colorful flowers. Besides pastels the black ensemble was very popular, especially in after five wear and teamed with white for the afternoon.

Shoes were outstanding and many comments were heard on the array of color and various styles available. The wide-open look was particularly eye-catching and pastel patterns were good news for spring.

Speaking of color, men's fashions had everyone looking twice, burgandy, blue-olive, green and other different colors led in style for the men.

Mrs. Forrest Henslee and Mrs. Raymond O. Fish were co-chairman for the colorful affair. Their committees of Newcomers worked together for several months in preparation and with the cooperation of participating merchants.

Guest Awards

Mrs. John Partridge, Newcomer Club president, began the evening with a welcome and explanation of the club's offerings to newcomers in the area. Mrs. Michael Jensen, Welcome Wagon hostess, was presented with an orchid for her work with the club. During intermission Mrs. Partridge presented guest awards to three members of the audience, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Mrs. John Curran and Miss Karen Beck.

Climaxing the affair was the ever popular bridal party. Miss Barbara Deroun was an attractive bride, Karla Gray and Martha Johnson were bridesmaids and Mrs. Ed Hengesh was mother of the bride. Men in the bridal party were Terry Dufour, Jim Clairmont and Brent Baum.

Background music for the show featured Dick Steede at the organ and Bob Escen and Peggy Munson were commentators.

Merchants showing fashions at the show included: Penney's, Montgomery Ward, Morrison Shop, Garters, Leader Store, Elsie's Apparel and Manning, Peterson and Robert's shoe stores.

St. Charles Is Beginning Daily Adoration

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Morin are co-chairmen for Perpetual Adoration which will begin at St. Charles Borromeo Catholic Church in Rapid River Tuesday, March 17, at 9 a. m., Fr. John Vincent Suhr, pastor announced today. It will continue on a weekly basis on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday only, for the present time.

Each parishioner may choose one hour to spend in adoration before the Blessed Sacrament each week.

Captains are appointed for each day, Mrs. Leola Sherwood, Tuesday, Mrs. Lydia Wils, Wednesday, Mrs. Mildred Lund, Thursday. Those who wish to pledge an hour a week during one of the days are asked to contact the captains.

Corn Beef and Cabbage

CORNER BEEF and Cabbage for St. Patrick's Day.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Corned beef is the traditional meat served on St. Patrick's Day. That can go for canned corned beef hash, too, particularly when served with tender cabbage wedges.

CORNER BEEF LOAF WITH CABBAGE WEDGES

(6 Servings)
3 cans (1 pound each) corned beef hash
1 medium cabbage, cut in 6 wedges
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Green papier shamrock
Pack corned beef hash into 1x4 1/2x2 1/4-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes. Place cabbage wedges in large skillet with a tight-fitting cover. Sprinkle with instant minced onion and salt; add water and dot with butter. Simmer, covered, over medium heat 5 to 10 minutes or until crisp-tender. Turn corned beef loaf onto large serving platter, surround with cabbage wedges and garnish with green pepper shamrock. Serve with Piquant Sauce.

*PIQUANT SAUCE
(3/4 Cup Sauce)
1/2 cup chilled sauce
1/4 cup pickle relish
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
Combine all ingredients in saucepan; heat thoroughly.

Deny Protest Of Cage Game

LANSING (AP)—The Representative Council of the Michigan High School Athletic Association ruled Sunday there can be no replay of a regional final basketball game between defending Class D champion Britton-Macon and Port Huron St. Stephen.

In a special meeting, the council reaffirmed its denial of a protest from St. Stephen following its 74-70 defeat Thursday by Britton-Macon.

The protest was filed by St. Stephen coach Bob Sheehan because one of the game officials, Charles Saxton, was a brother of William Saxton, the superintendent of schools at Britton-Macon.

The school protested that the assignment of Charles Saxton to the game was "unethical and in poor taste."

Charles E. Forsythe, state director of athletics, said the situation was both "unfortunate and regrettable," but added that no state rule had been violated and that St. Stephen officials were not protesting the "integrity or honesty" of Charles Saxton.

St. Stephen had won 20 consecutive games before bowing to Britton-Macon. The Port Huron school will close this spring after 67 years of operation.

Big Ten co-champion Michigan ground out its victory methodically over Ohio University, with sophomore Cazzie Russell making the big play whenever the Wolverines needed it and Bill Buntin providing the muscle in a relentless rebounding game. Russell tossed in 25 points, but Buntin had his hands full with Ohio's 6-foot-4 Don Hilt and wound up with only 15. Just the same, the 235-pound, 6-foot-7

Red Wings Pull Trick On Hawks

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings pulled a sleeper on the Chicago Black Hawks Sunday night—a three-goal hat trick by Floyd Smith—for a 5-3 victory that kept the Hawks from taking first place alone in the National Hockey League.

Montreal's Canadiens were dumped meanwhile by the lowly Boston Bruins 3-1 at Boston.

Chicago would have returned to exclusive possession of the lead except for Detroit's victory. Montreal and Chicago stay tied at 80 points each.

With three games to go before the Stanley Cup playoffs, the Canadiens have an edge on the Hawks for the NHL regular season title. Chicago has only two left.

Smith's hat trick, which pushed NHL scoring leader Bobby Hull into the background though Bobby got his 41st goal, was the Detroit forward's first in his NHL career.

In 106 NHL games with three clubs prior to this season, Smith had scored only 14 goals. Sunday night's three were his 14th, 15th and 16th of this season.

Smith and Hull traded goals in the first period on power plays. Smith punched in his next two within the first five minutes of the second period. With Gordie Howe and Norm Ullman following with counters, the Wings were safe in front. Reg Fleming and Red Hay scored for Chicago in the same period.

The Toronto Maple Leafs picked up some insurance points for a third place finish by beating the New York Rangers 3-1 at New York. Defenseman Tim Horton of Toronto scored the winning goal for the seventh time this season. It was his ninth goal of the season.

Boston's triumph over Montreal was the Bruins' second of the year over the Canadiens. Bernie Geoffroy of the Canadiens hit the 20-goal mark for the 12th time in his 13 full NHL seasons with a second period marker. Boston scored twice in the first period and again in the third.

Highly Rated Teams Bow In Regional Tournaments

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

That annual bit of pre-spring madness known as the state high school basketball tournament enters its final stages this week, promising the usual share of fireworks and surprises.

Seven highly-rated schools had to change their plans for this week after their teams were upended in regional finals Saturday.

But a good many of the favored teams were still around as the list in the running dwindled to 32—eight in each of the classes.

River Rouge, the defending Class B champion, and Class D kingpin Britton-Macon have successfully withstood all challenges so far, while Lansing Sexton and Grosse Pointe St. Paul have their respective eyes set on the vacated Class A and Class C thrones.

Sexton, top-rated in the final Associated Press prep poll easily downed Adrian 75-50. River Rouge had smooth sailing against Detroit Servite, 83-54, while Grosse Pointe St. Paul topped New Haven 50-42.

Britton-Macon won its place in the quarter-finals earlier in the week.

New Haven was one of the ranked teams to fall by the way-side.

Fourth-ranked Benton Harbor defeated sixth-ranked Albion 85-61, Monroe upset second-ranked Detroit Northwestern 75-69 and Saginaw surprised third-ranked Flint Central 65-60, in Class A.

Seventh-ranked Flint St. Michael downed 10th-ranked Saginaw Buena Vista 62-47 and sixth-ranked Allegan bounced Paw Paw 53-46, in Class B.

The always-rough Class C saw second-ranked Galien clobber Constantine 87-54, fifth-rated Addison beat Ann Arbor U. 74-68 and sixth-ranked Wakefield thump Houghton 58-45.

Top Games Set

Negaunee St. Paul, last year's Class D runner-up, was beaten by Baraga, 51-47, while fourth-ranked Covert squeezed past Coldwater St. Charles 51-50.

Sites for Wednesday's quarter-final games were to be announced this afternoon, but pairings had been made previously.

Top games on the card will find Sexton (20-0) playing Benton Harbor (16-3), Tecumseh (15-4) meeting River Rouge (21-1), Galien (21-0) facing Addison (21-1), Britton-Macon (20-1) taking on Covert (20-2) and McBain (22-0) opposing Suttons Bay. McBain is a Class D school which has come out of nowhere to present a serious challenge to the state's smaller schools.

Individual scoring honors on the last night of the regional tourney Saturday went to Mount Clemens' Allan Hairston, who got 31 points in a losing cause against Pontiac Central.

Baraga's margin of victory over Negaunee St. Paul came on four free throws by Larry Kangas in the last minute of play.

Forstrom Scores 27

Wakefield's victory over Houghton ended the latter's three-year reign as Upper Peninsula Class C champion.

Lee Lafayette of Grand Rapids South and Marquette's Bruce Forstrom each tallied 27 points in the game which saw South end the Upper Peninsula's hopes of a Class A title with a 65-47 victory.

Mackinaw City overcame an eight-point deficit in the last quarter and tied Pickford 49-49 in regulation play, only to lose 59-50 in overtime, in another Class D contest.

Flint Sacred Heart held leads of 20 points as it trampled Harbor Beach Our Lady 81-58 in a Class D game, while Lakeview's Bob Langdon had 28 to spark his team to a 66-55 Class B verdict over Tawas Area.

Winners of Wednesday's game move to the Lansing area Friday night when semifinal contests will be played at six sites.

Saturday's finals will all be played at Jenison Field House on the campus of Michigan State University.

Kaline Blasts First Homerun

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Al

Kaline has hit his first home run, the Detroit Tigers are all-square with the opposition in Grapefruit League play, and there are some pitching problems.

This was the approximate picture as Manager Charlie Dressen's lads returned to work on the training camp home field today following a split of a week-end series with the Minnesota Twins.

The Twins took picks on rookie Denny McLain in trimming the Tigers 9-6 at Orlando Sunday, squaring the two-game series after Detroit's 3-2 victory of Saturday in the spring training exhibition opener.

Detroit was scheduled to play the St. Louis Cardinals here today with collegian rookies Fritz Fisher and Pete Craig due to share the pitching.

Six hits, including a 420-foot home run by the Twins' Jimmy Hall, ruined McLain's debut in the seventh inning Sunday as Minnesota thumped the youngster for six runs to win the game.

There were good things for the Tigers, too, however.

Besides Kaline's homer, there were four-baggers by Jerry Lumpe and Willie Horton and starting pitcher Phil Regan showed nicely in three innings of work.

Regan permitted only one hit and a walk and struck out one man while shutting out the Twins over the first three innings. His successor, Dick Egan, allowed five hits and three runs in the next three.

The Tigers splurged for five of their six runs in the second off Lee Stange. Two of their hits were the Kaline and Lumpe homers, each with a man on base. Horton got his homer in the eighth.

Jake Wood, sharing shortstop with Dick McAuliffe, and Don Demeter, playing a second full game in the outfield, got two hits each in the Tigers' total of 10.

MEN OF LETTERS—Coach Red Schoendienst is still the longest-name-on-your-back champion of the St. Louis Cardinals. He informs rookie pitcher Dave Bakenhaster that he's still one letter behind in the contest at spring training camp in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Clay Accepts Ring Challenge

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay says he's willing to defend the honor of the Black Muslims in a winner-take-all fight with former title holder Floyd Patterson.

Clay, appearing on a Chicago television show Sunday, announced he would welcome a charity bout against Patterson, with the proceeds going to the Black Muslims if Clay wins and to the Roman Catholic Church if Patterson wins. Clay didn't say whether he intended to defend his title.

Promoter Tom Bolan of Championship Sports, who nine days ago supported Patterson's "no purse" title challenge with a $75,000 guarantee but was rebuffed by Clay's manager, said in New York he doubted the meeting proposed by Clay would take place.

"We're interested in such a fight but I'm afraid we'll find that Clay isn't serious," Bolan said. "It wouldn't be the first time that a fighter said something he didn't mean seriously."

Clay, a follower of Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad, was in Chicago for a conference with Muhammad. Patterson, a Roman Catholic, had made the original offer to fight Clay "for no purse, just for the opportunity to take the title away from Clay and the Muslims."

Joey Giambra and Jose Gonzalez.

Zora Folley, the No. 5 heavyweight contender from Chandler, Ariz., opposes Tod Herring of Houston at Houston Tuesday night.

Pro Grid Stars Are Reinstated

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League today reinstated Paul Hornung and Alex Karras, professional football stars suspended indefinitely last April 17 for gambling activities. The reinstatement goes into effect immediately.

Hornung, a member of the Green Bay Packers and three-time scoring champion of the National Football League, and Karras, an outstanding defensive tackle with the Detroit Lions, were set down for betting on football games.

In announcing the end of the indefinite suspensions, Rozelle said there was no evidence that either Karras or Hornung bet against his own team or failed to do his best in any NFL game.

Rozelle said he had established to his own satisfaction that each player now has a clear understanding of the seriousness of the offenses and of the circumstances that brought them about.

Rozelle's prepared statement said: "Taking into prime consideration the extent of their violations and also their conduct during the period of suspension, it is felt that the best interests of the league will be best served by termination of the suspensions."

Olympic Skiers Back For Event

WINTER PARK, Colo. (AP) — American Olympic skiers otp the field for the National Alpine Championships starting here Friday.

More than 80 other leading United States skiers are expected to compete in the hopes of knocking off the Olympians who begin training here Tuesday for the downhill and slalom races.

Back from the Olympic competition in Innsbruck, Austria, will be such racers as Jimmy Heuga, Bill Kidd, Bud Werner and Bill Marolt of the men's team, Jean Saubert, Barbara Ferries, Joan Hannah, Linda Meyers, Margo Walters and Starr Walton of the women's team.

Rudyard Retains Upper Peninsula Crown

Tall Bulldogs Defeat Ishpeming In Finals

By RAY CRANDALL (Sports Editor)

MARQUETTE — The Rudyard Bulldogs, jutting like tall pines over a shrubby-sized Ishpeming team, successfully defended their Upper Peninsula Class B basketball championship before a record crowd at the Northern Michigan University fieldhouse Saturday night.

Coach Bill Howes' long-legged cagers chalked up a 60-49 triumph over the hustling Hematites for the right to advance to the Wednesday night quarterfinals in the state tournament.

The Bulldogs will carry a record of 18 victories in 20 starts into the down-state tournament.

Ishpeming gave Rudyard a rugged battle through the first half, pressing from the opening tipoff in an effort to shake the Bulldog poise. But the fast pace took its toll in the second half as the Hematites tired.

Rudyard moved out to a 15-10 lead in the first period but Ishpeming rallied to grab a 26-25 edge at the half.

Clearing the boards with their giant jumpers, the Bulldogs took command in the third period and pulled to a 43-36 margin. They continued to dominate the game through the final quarter.

The Rudyard victory was quarterbacked by classy guard Ron Hintz, a 6 foot 1 inch senior who directed the Bulldog attack and was a vital cog in the defensive machinery. Hintz contributed 15 points, mainly on a long arching jumper from outside the free throw circle.

The big man under the boards for Rudyard was Joel Ploegstra, 6 foot 4 inch senior, who lead his mates in rebounding and scoring. He jumped in nine goals and two free throws for 20 points.

Rick Crews, slender 5 foot 11 inch junior guard, also reached double scoring figures with 14 points.

The Brlddogs outscored Ishpeming by nine field goals. They were off form from the free throw line where they missed a dozen out of 22 attempts.

Ishpeming's Les Coduti closed out his prep career with a tremendous performance. Playing with a tightly taped thigh as the result of an injury which was aggravated in the semifinals against Stephenson Friday night, Coduti put on a great one-man show.

Squirring, twisting and driving against his taller opponents, Coduti rang the bell with seven field goals and poured in 15 of 17 attempts from the free throw line for 29 points. He was the only Hematite in double figures.

Bruce Swanson, another Ishpeming standout, was hampered by early fouls and contributed only two field goals. He drew his fourth personal in the second half and saw only limited action before fouling out in the fourth quarter.

Ishpeming closed the books on the 1964 cage campaign with a 13-7 record.

Wolverines Want Crack At UCLA

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Michigan is itching for another crack at top-ranked and undefeated UCLA, and the Wolverines may get their wish Saturday night in Kansas City.

Duke stands in the way of a match pitting the nation's No. 1 team in the final Associated Press poll, UCLA, against the second-ranked Wolverines.

Michigan, which won the Mid-east Regional Saturday night, tackles Duke, the Eastern titlist, in a semifinal game in the NCAA finals Friday night.

"Sure, we'd like to play UCLA again," Michigan Coach Dave Strack said after his Wolverines had vanquished Ohio University 69-57 in the Midwest finals.

"But all we're worried about right now is Duke," Strack added.

UCLA beat Michigan last December in the Los Angeles Classic.

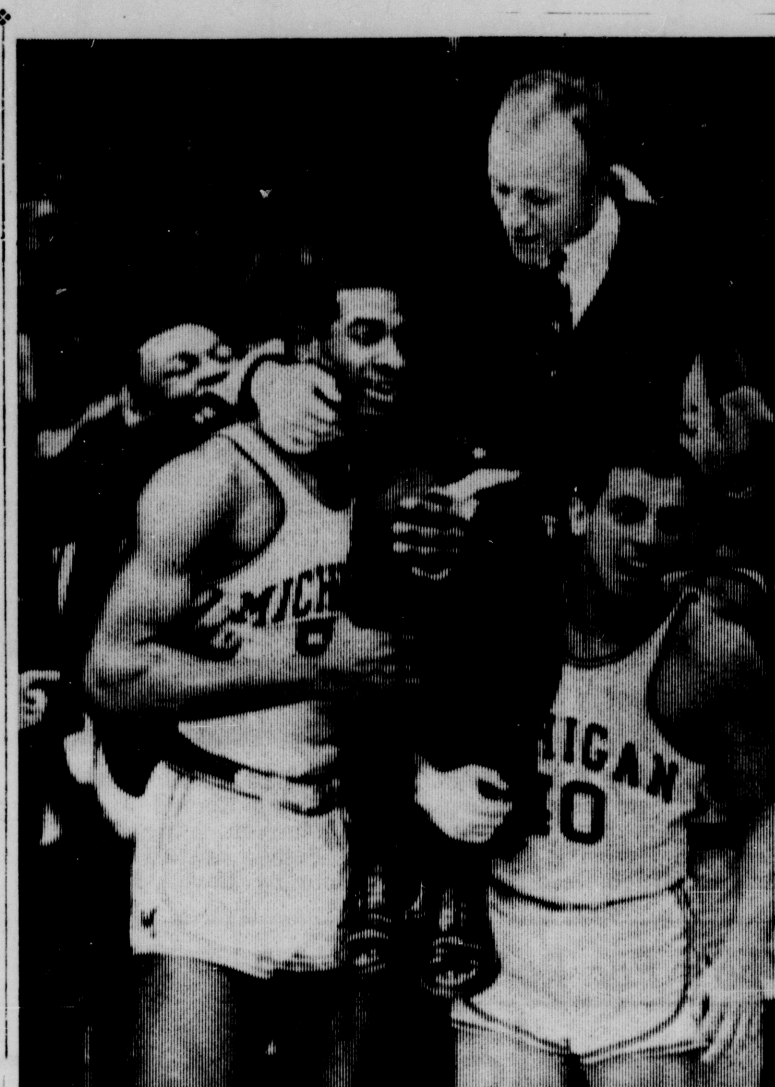

"We've improved since then" Strack said of his team which now carries a 22-4 record. "Our sophomores have all developed a lot in the 17 games we've played since."

Strack believes he has the strongest two-man punch in collegiate basketball in muscle boys Bill Buntin and Cazzie Russell, who together measure 13 feet tall and weigh 450 pounds.

They made believers of those who witnessed Michigan's 84-80 victory over defending NCAA champion Loyola of Chicago and triumph over Ohio.

Russell scored 46 points, while Buntin added 41 and corraled 23 rebounds.

Buntin was named most valuable player, by an eyelash over Russell. Both made the all-tournament team, along with Ohio's Don Hilt and Jerry Jackson and Loyol's Leslie Hunter.

Spahn In Form For Milwaukee; Pirates Explode

By JIM BECKER Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the time of year when the pitchers are supposed to be ahead of the hitters.

Maybe so, but those weren't grapefruits rattling off the walls Sunday, as the major leagues wound up the first big weekend of exhibition action. They were baseballs, and by the time they stopped bouncing the big leaguers had scored a total of 129 runs in 11 games.

However, one fellow was ahead of the batters. That was Warren Spahn.

Spahn allowed one hit in three innings, and Milwaukee went on to defeat the Washington Senators 2-0, in the only shutout of the day.

Elsewhere, the Pittsburgh Pirates had the biggest day at bat as they feasted on the pitching of the Kansas City Athletics for the second straight day. This time the score was 15-7, and the Pirates had seven home runs, including three by rookie infielder Gene Alley. The Pirates whipped the Athletics 14-1 Saturday.

The Baltimore Orioles also made it two in a row over the New York Yankees as they raked Stan Williams and his successors for nine runs in the second inning and won 10-1.

Minnesota had a six-run seventh inning in a 9-6 victory over Detroit. Jimmie Hall hit a three-run homer and Bob Allison a bases-loaded double.

Cincinnati had 17 hits as they battered the Chicago White Sox 11-7. The Sox fought back in the late innings as Charlie Smith hit two homers and J. C. Martin got one.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, touring in Mexico were beaten 8-5 by the Mexico City All-Stars, who jumped on Dick Calmus for four runs in the eighth. It was the first loss for the Dodgers after two victories in Mexico.

The Cleveland Indians got a split on the day. The varsity ended a four-game losing streak with a 4-1 victory over the Chi-

Gremelin Is Injured

Houghton, having troubles all through the game against Wakefield, lost its crown in the final five minutes of action.

Trailing by four points, 40-36, the Gremelins' hopes were crushed when they lost star performer Jon Fryxell in a freak accident. Fryxell suffered a deep gash on his scalp in a collision with Wakefield's Mickey Ginolfi.

While Fryxell's head was being patched up on the sidelines, Wakefield spread its margin to 10 points at 48-38. Fryxell returned to action with three minutes remaining but the Gremelins were never able to get back in the game.

Wakefield, champion of the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference in the regular season, was paced by lanky Bob Jurkovich with 18 points while Terry Salmi added 15 and Ginolfi 10. The Cardinals outscored Houghton by three field goals and pumped in 16 of 22 shots from the free throw line.

St. Paul Battles

The Cardinals will carry a record of 16 victories in 19 starts into the state tournament.

In spite of his injury, Fryxell shared individual scoring honors with Jurkovich with 18 points. Don Stepech added 13 for the Gremelins.

Negaunee St. Paul staged a furious fight in the closing seconds before surrendering its Class D crown to Baraga.

Coach Al Dighera's Emeralds couldn't regain the smooth form they had displayed in Friday night's semifinals and lost the ball on floor faults nine times in the first half. They trailed 24-20 at the intermission.

St. Paul eased into a 33-34 lead at the three-quarter mark but the calm Vikings from Baraga took command again midway in the final period with a 47-43 advantage.

With a minute to go, George

Torreano potted a field goal and St. Paul trailed by only two, 47-45.

The Emeralds got the chance they were praying for on a jump ball with 50 seconds to go. They controlled the tip but Dom Jacobetti palmed the ball on his dribble and Baraga took over with 40 seconds left.

Free Throws Win

Jacobetti fouled Larry Kangas two seconds later and the Baraga guard hit both free throws to make it 49-45 with 37 seconds to go. The Emeralds again cut it to two, 49-47, when Rod Guizzetti put a jumper through the nets with 25 seconds left.

The Emeralds were forced to foul in an effort to break Baraga's stall and they picked Kangas again. He put it out of reach by hitting both free throws to make it 51-47 with 13 seconds remaining on the clock.

Kangas led three Vikings in double figures with 16 points while Jacobetti, an outstanding junior, led St. Paul with 20.

Baraga has a record of 19 victories in 22 starts. St. Paul closed its season with a 20-2 mark.

Beware Of Ides Of March Warning To Cage Coaches

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Note to the UCLA and Michigan basketball teams: Here in the middle of March it might be wise to brush up on your Shakespeare. "Beware," warned the bard "The Ides of March."

He might have added that what happened in December doesn't count.

Vic Bubas of Duke and Tex Winter of Kansas State have voiced the same opinion in slightly less poetic terms, perhaps, but it's the same idea. More like:

"They'd just better watch a little bit out."

Michigan is matched with Duke and UCLA with Kansas State in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball championships and in each case the top-ranked team owns a regular season victory over its Friday night opponent.

Top-ranked UCLA edged

Kansas State 78-75 at Kansas and No. 2 Michigan romped over Duke 83-67 in December matches.

"I made a coaching mistake in that one," Bubas insists.

"Both teams have come a long way since then," said Winter. "We're a lot better now than we were then."

He reflected a moment, then added:

"UCLA's press is a lot like Wichita's. We handled them pretty well."

His Big Eight champion Wildcats ripped into the Shockers' press defense for a 94-86 triumph and the Midwest regional championship at Wichita Saturday.

Unbeaten UCLA came from behind for its 28th straight victory, a 7

Warriors Win Title In West

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Royals, who barely missed breaking Boston's longstanding grip on the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division title, have assured San Francisco of no less than a piece of its first Western Division championship.

The Royals closed out their best NBA season ever by humiliating St. Louis 124-101 Sunday and dropping the Hawks two full games behind the Warriors in the West. St. Louis and San Francisco each have two games remaining and the Hawks must win both while the Warriors lose both to force a deadlock.

The New York Knickerbockers had an opportunity to cement their spot at the bottom of the league standings—a distinction that carries with it the first pick in the college draft. But the Knicks wound up on the front end of a 139-125 point exchange with Detroit, leaving the Pistons with an outside shot at the sorriest season record.

In other games Boston drubbed Baltimore 129-105 and Los Angeles ripped Philadelphia 120-95.

Oscar Robertson's 25 points and 15 assists paced Cincinnati to its 55th victory in 80 games but the Royals lost Adrian Smith in the third period when the backcourt man sprained his left ankle.

The Lakers dropped a 111-95 decision to San Francisco Saturday while Detroit nipped New York 128-124. Philadelphia topped Baltimore 128-122 and St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 118-110.

COMPRESSED POWER—This electron bombardment engine shown by its inventor, Harold R. Kaufman, generates only a few ounces of thrust, in contrast to giant chemical engines. Although this would be insufficient for initial lift-off from earth, these small engines could accelerate a space ship toward the planets at ever-increasing velocities. Kaufman, a scientist at Lewis Research Center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Cleveland, Ohio, won a NASA award for his design.

Girl Dies, Beaten By Mother And Her Boy Friend

NEW YORK (AP) — Crippled Elizabeth Pappolla, 7, is dead, and the mother and her boy-friend are charged with beating the child off and on for the past two weeks.

Elizabeth, suffering from muscular dystrophy, a progressive weakening of the muscles, died Friday in Brooklyn's Methodist Hospital.

The mother, Florence Pappolla, 32, brought her there Thursday night and told attendants: "She fell off her crutches. She is always falling off her crutches."

Examination of the child, authorities said, disclosed a skull fracture and bruises over most of her body. Police quoted Mrs. Pappolla and her friend, John Koltosky, 26, as saying they "enjoyed beating" the girl. The woman and Koltosky were charged with homicide.

Huge Battle Flag Reproduced For New York Fair

BALTIMORE (AP)—Francis Scott Key wasn't kidding about those "broad stripes" when he wrote the Star-Spangled Banner in 1814.

The flag which withstood the British bombardment of Fort M'Henry in Baltimore and inspired Key to write the song that became the National Anthem had stripes two feet wide.

Seventy-five Maryland women have used more than three miles of thread and about 500,000 stitches in reproducing the flag, reputed to be the largest American flag ever flown in battle. The banner measures 42 feet by 30 feet and weighs 75 pounds.

When the flag is completed it will be displayed in the Maryland Pavilion at the New York World's Fair.

ANCIENT SHIP

SIRACUSA Sicily (AP)—A wooden Roman sailing ship believed to date back to the 3rd or 4th century B. C. has been found in the coastal mudflats at the southeastern tip of Sicily. Ancient Rome had shipyards in that area to build fleets of vessels to supply its legions in Africa.

Chips And Splinters

Mrs. Henrietta Hafemann Miller, a member of the faculty of Chicago's Senn High School and a former Menominee resident, is the subject of an article, "The Rewards of a Great Teacher" in Life magazine.

The recipient of several awards and a top salary in Chicago schools, Mrs. Miller is designated as the "best teacher he has ever seen" by Dr. Charles R. Keller, a former Williams College history professor who is in charge of the search for the nation's top educators for the prestigious John Hay Fellowships.

Last year she was a John Hay Fellow at the University of California and while there prepared a course in Advanced Placement in European history. She pioneered the Advanced Placement program in Chicago schools, which allows able and ambitious to take college level work for credit, and she started an elective course in international relations, later expanded for use elsewhere in the school system.

She was graduated from Menominee High School with the Class of 1921 and attributes her early decision to be a teacher to the strong influence of her high school principal, Miss Frances Radford.

She received her degree from Lawrence College, and taught for six years in high schools at Manistique and Milwaukee before joining the Senn faculty in 1931. She has continued her studies at the University of Chicago.

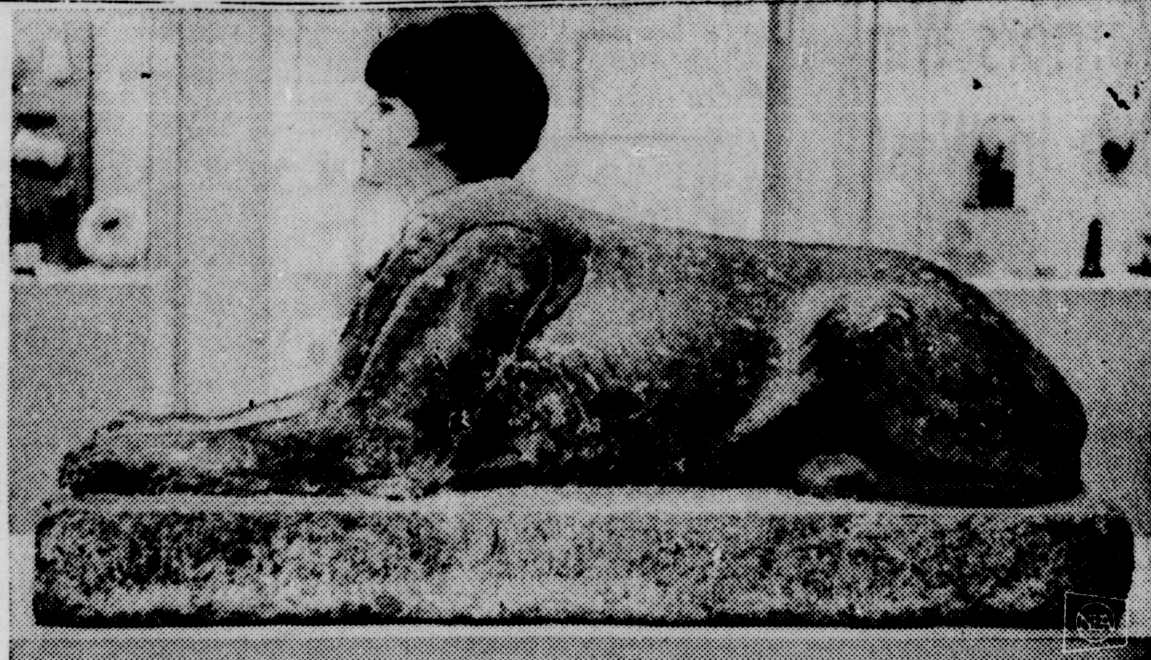

Should the venerable "two-by-four," America's most widely used piece of lumber, be slimmed down to the "one and one-half by four?"

No, say some lumber producers and shippers, who fear the change would hurt their business, and some builders who claim, as one puts it: "Two-by-fours are too darned thin now."

Yes, says the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, which contends that about $100 million a year in material and shipping costs could be paved by reducing the thickness of two-by-fours and other "two-inch" thick boards.

The controversy is confused by the fact that so-called two-inch thick boards aren't really two inches thick even now. Present Commerce Department standards allow them to be shipped from lumber mills measuring only one and five-eighths inches thick, whether they are seasoned or "green." But as the green boards lose moisture they shrink to about one and one-half inches in thickness.

Now, the Lumber Manufacturers Association is asking the U.S. Commerce Department to revise its published lumber standards and to base sizes on the measurements of boards that actually reach the consumer, rather than on the size leaving the mill. Under the new standards the consumer would get seasoned or dry lumber at a thickness of one and one-half inches instead of one and five-eighths. Green lumber would continue to be shipped slightly thicker from the mill, so that it would shrink to the same size as the dry by the time it reached the consumer.

SPHANTASTIC SPHINX—For a moment, anyway, the Rochester (N.Y.) Memorial Art Gallery possessed an Egyptian relic which was, to say the least, unique. But seconds after the photo was taken, Linda Bassa walked away and the old sphinx lost its pretty head.

Classified Ad Plaque Given

To Groucho Marx

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Groucho Marx Friday got a bronze plaque as big as three of his cigar boxes because he had answered a classified ad in 1905.

The Distinguished Citizen Award of the Association of Newspaper Classified Advertising Managers (ANCAM) annually goes to someone who launched an outstanding career by answering a classified ad.

The 1905 ad—which ran in the old New York World and which started Groucho on his 59-year show business career—read: "Boy singer wanted for star vaudeville act. Room, board, $4 week. Apply in person."
